Research Body Studies Slash In State Rolls

Frey Declares Dismissals May Reach
2,000 Total
10 PER CENT CUT

Reductions Part of Plan Aiming to Avoid Special Session

Madison—(P)—The state research division in the executive office is making plans to carry out Governor Heil's proposal for a 10 per cent reduction in the number of state employees.

Hundreds of jobholders are slated for dismissal within the next few months in a program of consolidations linked up with the governor's plan to trim down the state budget and avoid a special session of the legislature on taxation.

August Frey, director of the research division, said the number of dismissals might run up to 2,000 or more and that changes would come as fast as the bureau could complete a survey of state departments.

Employees immediately involved are those under the old board of control, the public service commission and the highway and motor vehicle departments.

New Research Body
The board of control, which had charge of all state penal and charitable institutions was abolished by the legislature and a new welfare department was set up in its place.
Governor Heil appointed two new members to the three-man public service commission, and the motor vehicle department was created to consolidate all functions relating to automobiles and trucks.

The research division, established by the legislature, has been working for about six months. It has power to examine the books and records of all state departments and recommend economies to the governor.

Roy Kubista, executive secretary of the Wisconsin State Employees association, said he could not see how the state could dismiss as many as 2,000 employees.

Kubista contended the number of state workers in Madison, exclusive of the university, is only 1,500.

STATE BUYS CEMENT

Madison—(P)—Thomas F. Dav-lin, member of the state highway commission, testified at a highway department investigation today that the commission changed its policy in 1933 on the purchase of cement and decided to buy the materials itself instead of having the road contractors do it.

This was the first point brought out at the inquiry being conducted by August Frey, director of Governor Heil's state research division who made a brief statement as the hearing began. He said the research division wanted to ascertain facts and information regarding certain contracts and purchases of the highway department. He then turned the questioning over to Elmer Barlow, director of the state tax department and Governor Heil's legal counsel.

Davlin, who was chairman of the highway commission in 1933, having been replaced by Commissioner William E. O'Brien, whom Governor Heil reappointed, said that contractors formerly bought their own cement.

The commission then decided, he said, that the state would furnish the cement and the contractors would bid on highway jobs with that understanding.

Barlow asked the reason for this change in policy.

Davlin replied there were rumors that prices would be increased materially and the commission thought it best to arrange for a supply in advance. He testified that the 1928 purchases totaled 20-000 barrels.

Merely a Matter of Form

"How do you carry yourself?" is the French form of "How do you do?" The Italian is "How do you stand?"
The German "How do you find yourself?" The Holland-ish is "How do you sail?"
Swedish: "How can you?" Egyptian: "How do you perform?" Chinese: "How do you stomach?" Polish: "How do you have yourself?" Russian: "How do you live on?"
Persian: "May thy shadow never be less." Simplified they mean "Hy-a?" But this department is ceremonial.
So, "Good evening. How's your day?" This one rented a garage.

6 Counts Against Salen are Reduced To 2 at Waukesha

Perjury and False Swearing Alleged; Start
Drawing Jury Today

Waukesha—(P)—Circuit Judge Clayton Van Pelt, of Fond du Lac, today reduced the six counts of an indictment against Herman R. Sal-en, former Waukesha county district attorney, to one count of perjury and one count of false swearing.

Drawing of a jury was scheduled for this afternoon, with 20 veniremen waiting to be questioned.

On motion of Salen's attorneys, Judge Van Pelt ruled that three counts of perjury should be combined and that three counts of false swearing also should be combined. The grand jury indictment alleges Salen committed these offenses in testifying in his own behalf July 18, 1938, in a trial in which he was acquitted of a charge of conspiracy to violate the gambling laws through setting up of slot machines.

The state supreme court earlier in the year refused Salen a writ by which he sought to quash the indictments on the grounds that his constitutional rights had been violated because no women served on the grand jury.

Among the state's witnesses ready to testify were eight slot machine operators who were granted stays of six months sentences to the Milwaukee House of Correction in order that they might be witnesses.

Attorney General Announces He Will Quit Race in Primary

New Orleans—(P)—An armistice following yesterday's ouster of Attorney General David M. Eliason seemed assured today when Elison, after a meeting with Governor Earl K. Long, announced he would step out of the race for attorney general in the January primary.

National guardsmen and state troopers still remained on duty in Baton Rouge, however.

Eliason and his first assistant,
James O'Connor, were deposed when the governor sent troopers to seize their offices in a manner reminiscent of the coups engineered by his late brother Huey Long.

Both Long and Eliason refused comment after Eliason's withdrawal of his candidacy for attorney general against Francis Burns, New Orleans city attorney, running on the state administration ticket which Long heads as candidate for governor against five opponents.

Long said yesterday Eliason and O'Connor were serving illegally to improve appointments by former Governor Richard W.
Leche.

The gubernatorial campaign is now in full swing with six candidates including Earl, in the race for the Democratic nomination in the Jan. 16 primary. Nomination is tantamount to election in Democratic Louisiana. The deadline for the filing of candidacies expired last midnight.

Ship Hits Submerged Object and Is Beached

Hong Kong—(P)—The British steamer Fatsan, 2,639 tons and carrying 1,500 passengers, including 40 Europeans, was beached on an island just outside colonial waters today after striking a submerged object near the Canton river mouth.

The engine room was flooded partially, but there were no casualties. The vessel operated by the China Navigation company, was en route from Hong Kong to Canton.

U. S. Accused of Trying to Block Soviet-Jap Amity

Moscow Paper Charges
'American Agents' Put Pressure on Nipponese

Moscow—(P)—A special dispatch from Shanghai to the government newspaper Izvestia today accused the United States of trying to block improvement in Soviet Russian-Japanese relations.

Quoting "responsible quarters," the dispatch said "agents of Washington are active" in trying to put pressure on the Japanese government because of Japan's dependence upon the imports from the United States.

"Japan would like to improve her relations with the U. S. S. R.," the dispatch added, "but meets great resistance from representatives of the United States because improvement of Soviet-Japanese relations would strengthen Japan—which does not correspond to United States' interests."

American representatives, the article said, continued to "consider neutrality of the United States a comfortable mask necessary to cover the policy of isolation of Japan and for upsetting the relations between Japan and the U. S. S. R."

"Apparently the Japanese people realize this maneuver of the United States and are beginning to feel uneasy under such pressure from the United States," the dispatch said.

Find Rowboat and Guns of 3 Missing
In Canadian Wilds

International Falls, Minn.—(P)— A rowboat containing guns and other belongings of two Iowa hunters and their guide, missing in the Canadian wilds for several days, was found late yesterday by provincial police on Regina bay, Lake of the Woods, about 80 miles north of here.

The trio, J. L. Drahos of Cedar Rapids, Frank Klumpp of Independence, and Cecil Grant of Lunenburg, Ontario, the guide, have been sought since last Saturday, when they failed to return from a six-day hunting trip. They left their hunting camp at Nestor Falls, Oct.
17, with provisions for a week.

Child Burns to Death In Trailer House Fire

Steuben, Wis.—(P)—Four-year-old Junior Havens was burned to death yesterday when he was trapped in a flaming trailer house set on fire by the explosion of a gasoline stove.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Clifford Havens and his young sister at the time of the explosion. She seized the children and started outside but the boy pulled away from her. By the time she had rescued her daughter the trailer was a mass of flames.

Neighbors forcibly prevented Mrs.
Havens from coming back in to get the boy. She was severely burned.

2 Passengers Killed.
11 Persons Injured
In Railway Tragedy

Fort Wayne, Ind.—(P)—Two passengers were killed and nine other passengers and two trainmen were injured early today when a switch-engine struck a passenger train bound for Chicago at Detroit.

The passengers killed were Robert
M. Brydon, 56, of Chicago and Ernest B. Salkeld, 46, Birmingham, Mich.

The switch engine, on a side track, apparently moved onto the main track as the passenger train pulled into the station here. The switch engine grazed a lounge car, ripping off the side of the car. It was the third car of the 11-coach train.

The collision occurred about 2:35
a. m., a block and a half west of the station.

J. H. Cooper, Pennsylvania's Fort Wayne division superintendent, began an investigation.

Cudahy Youth Fined After Fatal Accident

Milwaukee—(P)—Frank Vrana, 19, of Cudahy, pleaded guilty in municipal court today to a charge of fourth degree manslaughter, and Judge John J. Gregory imposed a fine of $200.

Vrana's automobile struck and killed Peter Ziarek, 54, at a street intersection Sept. 13.

The court was informed that Vra-na was helping to support his widowed mother and that the youth had paid $1,000 to Ziarek's widow.

Dies Hints at Trials for Red, Fascist Chiefs

Claims Sufficient Evidence to Warrant Their Prosecution

SAYS LAWS BROKEN

Believes League for Peace And Democracy Is Communist

Washington—(P)—Chairman Dies (D-Texas) declared today that the house committee investigating un-Americanism possessed evidence which would permit the prosecution of every leader of fascist and communist organizations in the United States.

"There isn't a leader of any of these fascist or communist organizations," the chairman declared at an open committee hearing, "who hasn't violated some penal law."

Dies made the assertion in announcing that Attorney General Murphy had assigned a special staff to act on the committee's request yesterday that action be taken against leaders of the Communist party and the German-American bund "for failure to register" under the alien registration law.

Just before this request, a federal grand jury at New York indicted Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist party in this country, on a charge of false application for a passport.

Dies followed up his prosecution statement a few hours later with an expression of belief that the American League for Peace and Democracy, with about 800 government workers as members here, appeared to be "nothing more or less than a communist organization."

Referring to the league unit here as a "high pressure group of government employees," Dies read a questionnaire he said the league had sent to its members. Among the questions were these:

"Are you free to lobby during the day?"
"Are you free to lobby during your lunch hour?"
"Which senators and congressmen do you know?"

"What do you know about any senator or congressman that would be of help in approaching him?"

Browder Liberated
On Bail of $7,500

Socially Prominent New York Woman Posts Securities

New York—(P)—The socially prominent Mrs. Hester G. Huntington, who came to the aid of Earl Browder "as a matter of principle," posted $7,500 security today, freeing the Communist leader from the federal house of detention.

Browder, Kansas-born, general secretary of the Communist party in the United States, was indicted yesterday on charges of fraudulently obtaining and using a passport for travel abroad.

He would have been freed last night, but it was too late by the time Mrs. Huntington, who earlier had produced a $5,000 government bond as security, turned up at the federal building with an additional $2,500 in cash.

So Browder spent the night in a cell.

Mrs. Huntington, who is in the Social Register and who describes herself as a philanthropic worker, was present at the federal building when Browder was liberated.

For her pains yesterday she was granted a subpoena to appear before the federal grand jury investigating a fake passport ring. She made it clear, however, she did not know Browder personally.

3 Youths Fail in Jail Break Attempt

Woodstock, Ill.—(P)—Charles Allen Dain, 14, under indictment for murder, and two other youths, held on charges of armed robbery, attempted to break jail today, Sheriff Lester Edinger reported.

Dain's companions, the sheriff said, were William Kent, 16, of Janesville, Wis., and Raymond Allen, 17, of Crystal Lake. They have been held on charges of armed robbery and slugging several victims in Crystal Lake recently.
Sheriff Edinger declared.

The sheriff discovered the attempt when he went to the second floor of the McHenry county jail to set another prisoner, he said. He noticed a hole in the roof of the cell occupied by the trio. The prisoners had broken through the plaster of the cell and only a tin roof barred their escape.

U. S. May Ask Russia to Release Vessel Taken to Soviet Port by Nazi Crew

Senate Agrees to Curtail Debate on Neutrality Bill
In Effort to Speed Up Vote

Washington—(P)—The senate quickly amended the administration neutrality bill today to lift drastic restrictions from American shipping except in the danger zones of the North Atlantic.

With Vice President Garner gaveling amendments through hurriedly, the chamber also accepted a proposal by Senator Pittman (D-Nev.) to strip from the measure a clause permitting belligerents to obtain 90 day credits on purchases in this country.

Washington—(P)—The senate, working under an agreement curtailing debate, amended the administration's neutrality bill today to exempt ordinary, inland commerce with Canada from the "title and carry" restrictions of the measure.

The amendment, offered by Senator Brown (D-Mich.) was approved without a dissenting voice after Democratic Leader Barkley had won unanimous consent to a proposal at getting a final vote on neutrality legislation this week.

Brown's amendment was approved after Vice President Garner, who had sought to speed up proceedings, had apologized to the senate for having gavelled through an amendment by Senator Pittman (D-Nev.) Offered as a substitute, Brown's amendment displaced Pittman's, the latter offering no opposition to this course.

As explained by the Michigan senator, the amendment would permit the shipment by inland waterways, rail or airplanes of any supplies, except arms, to Canada without the purchaser first being required to obtain title in this country. Shipments going to sea, however, could not be carried in American vessels, and would require title transfer. Purchasers of arms in any case would be required to obtain title before shipment.

Washington—(P)—The senate
agreed unanimously today to curtail debate in an effort to reach a final vote on the administration's neutrality legislation this week.

The agreement, proposed by Democratic Leader Barkley, would limit each senator's general discussion of the legislation, providing for repeal of the arms embargo, to 45 minutes for six years unless revised.

First Major Test Under Wage Law

Court Action May Provide Ruling on Validity
Of Federal Act

Washington—(P)—The wage-hour law celebrated its first birthday anniversary today with a new administrator and an injunction suit.

Lieutenant Colonel Philip Fleming, the trouble-shooting army engineer, who professed no intentions to be a "crack downer," took over direction of the wage-hour division while his legal staff hastened to prepare for the first big court test of its powers.

The anniversary was marked also by a change in wage and hour standards for thousands of workers whose pay envelopes or work week are affected by the act.

Some 600,000 were in line for pay raises as the minimum wage requirement changed from 25 to 30 cents an hour, where it will remain for six years unless revised by congress.

The maximum work week was narrowed at the same time from 44 to 42 hours for some 2,300,000 workers who are now entitled to time and a half compensation for hours beyond that limit.

A court action which may test eventually the validity of the act was underway in New Orleans where three southern cotton textile manufacturers obtained from the circuit court of appeals a stay against the 32 cents an hour minimum wage put into effect by a special wage order. The rate applies only to 175,000 workers in the textile industry.

Two Efforts Being Made to Bring End To Chrysler Dispute

Detroit—(P)—Two separate efforts to end the dispute that has closed Chrysler Corporation plants were in progress today.

James F. Devery, conciliator of the United States department of labor, met in downtown Detroit with officials of the corporation and of the United Automobile Workers (UAW) to discuss the dispute over plant production rates.

With members of the state labor board attending as observers, other negotiators continued their daily meetings in the Chrysler institute conference there, for the first time, were Herman L. Weckler, Chrysler vice president in charge of labor relations, and Robert T. Frankenstein, UAW-CIO retention director.

Devery's meeting was the first direct federal intervention in the Chrysler dispute which has left more than 57,000 workers idle. It followed the appearance of a compromise plan submitted by the union and described by Frankenstein as "a recession from our position."

In London, a wireless message
for help was picked up last night
from the British freighter Bacon
Forbes, which said she had sighted
a submarine in the Atlantic. The position was not given, but the vessel has been in the Spanish trade.

Endurance Fliers Claim New Light-Airplane Record; Down After Over 535 Hours in Air

Muncie, Ind.—(P)—Robert A. Mc-
Daniels, 25, of Muncie and Kelvin F. Baxter, 23, of Richmond, at last on firm ground after spending 23 days in a little cabin monoplane, claimed a light-airplane endurance record today for their flight of 535 hours, 3 minutes.

Tired and unable at first to stand, the fliers landed at the Muncie airport at 6:33 (C. S. T.) last night, their legs so stiff and weak they found it hard to move the rudder bar of their black-and-yellow plane, Miss Sun Tan.

They had surpassed the 343 hours 46 minutes with which Hunter and Humphrey Moody, Decatur, Ill., brothers, set a light-plane mark at Springfield, Ill., last August.

Reich Will Fight To Bitter Finish, Ribbentrop Says

Declares Security of Germany Must be Assured
For All Time

Danzig, Germany—(P)—Adolf Hitler's foreign minister told the world tonight that Germany now was determined to conduct the war against Britain and her allies to the bitter finish and until the security of the German reich in Germany was assured for all time.

Joachim von Ribbentrop characterized the war with the western powers as "completely senseless," but held that Britain and especially the Chamberlain government had insisted upon having this war.

He denied the charge that Germany had broken her word; he asserted, with constant references to recent history, that every attempt by the feehner to come to an understanding with Britain, France and Poland had been frustrated by the London government.

The immediate audience for his 45-minute broadcast address was formed of veteran fighters of the nazi party in this one-time free city, now incorporated in the reich.

He declared that "in the truest sense of the word the war has been forced upon Germany."

Von Ribbentrop disclosed for the first time that only a few months after Hitler's assumption of power in 1933 secret meetings had been arranged between the feehner and French Premier Daladier to attempt to settle a French-German difference.
(Daladier was premier from January to October, 1933.)

Meeting Called Off
The foreign minister asserted that at Britain's instigation the meeting was called off at the last minute by the French and Daladier was ousted from the premiership because, as Von Ribbentrop insisted, the British feared "the French front fighter and man of the people, Daladier, might find a real basis for agreement with front fighter and man of the people Hitler."

The nazi foreign minister said Hitler's policy from 1933 on was one of coming to terms with Britain on the following basis:

1. A naval agreement.
2. An eternal mutual guarantee of the inviolability of the borders of Belgium, The Netherlands and France.

3. German respect for Britain's imperial interests and British respect for German interests in eastern Europe.

4. A protective British-German alliance with a pledge of armed aid by Germany to the British empire, with no such counter aid demanded of England.

Private shipping sources said they were informed the City of Flint never reached a port in the United Kingdom after sailing from New York Oct. 3, and therefore must have been seized somewhere off the British coast.

(The New York Maritime register listed the City of Flint as having arrived at Manchester, Oct. 15, and sailed for Liverpool and Glasgow.)

Since the ship was under charter from the United States maritime commission to the United States Lines, shipyard circles said the incident raised many points of international law on which Washington would have to gather data before the situation became clear.

The British government, announced that warships had sunk another submarine while it was engaged in a fight with a merchant vessel. This was added to the two submarines listed yesterday as attacked at sea by British planes.
The air ministry said the plane attacks were "believed to have been successful."

In London, a wireless message
for help was picked up last night
from the British freighter Bacon
Forbes, which said she had sighted
a submarine in the Atlantic. The
position was not given, but the vessel has been in the Spanish
trade.

Many Observers Think Roosevelt May Head Ticket

Also Forecast Vandenberg And Dewey Will Be Republican Candidates

BY W. B. RAGSDALE

Washington.—The best political prognosticators between Junction City, Kans., and the eastern edge of Queens county, New York, would not be surprised if the tickets for the 1940 presidential campaign read like this:

Democrats, Franklin D. Roosevelt and John Nance Garner.

Republicans, Arthur H. Vandenberg and Thomas E. Dewey.

They judge their predictions with all sorts of qualifications.

It is still seven months until the nominations will be made, long enough for the political picture to up-and-down several times. President Roosevelt has not made up his mind whether to run. Garner would like to get back to his Uvalde pecans and fishing streams. Dewey shies away from any discussion of the vice presidency.

Roosevelt Plans

President and Mrs. Roosevelt have made plans that they would like to carry out after they leave the White House. One is for a project in the Hudson river valley to which New York city residents might go to live and get a breath of country air. The president has given considerable thought to the idea. Both he and Mrs. Roosevelt have indicated a desire to return to private life. He has told more than one person that he did not intend to run for a third term.

But those statements, private as they were, were made several months ago. Since then a war has started, creating a situation which has demanded all of Mr. Roosevelt's energies. It also has given impetus to a third term movement which already was becoming evident.

And, many say, it has increased the prospects for a Democratic victory in 1940. Certainly, if polls are any indication, it has reversed the early summer trend away from the Democrats. Some argue that this would be a factor in shaping Mr. Roosevelt's final decision.

Also Want Garner

Garner's personal desires would lead him back to Uvalde after 34 years of service in Washington. But he is deeply patriotic and strongly partisan. These two emotions might dominate his personal desires.

Vandenberg has his followers in virtually every middle western state. The Michigan senator is well thought of by many of the men who go far toward paying the way for the Republican party.

Dewey is believed about the vice presidency for obvious reasons. No candidate for a presidential nomination would care to compromise his chances of getting it by saying in advance that he would be willing to accept the second spot on the ticket.

But the Republicans would have a chance to make a bid for the big electoral vote of New York by putting him on the ticket. Few predict he has ever been elected without Dewey's vote. And few men have turned down the vice presidential nomination.

Sugar Beets are Shipped to North

From 20 to 40 Cars Go Out Daily From Area South of City

Shipments of sugar beets from the area south of Appleton are unusually heavy this year, it was reported from the office of the Milwaukee Road today.

From 20 to 40 cars are being shipped north each day from Neenah-Menasha, Hibert, Sherwood, St. John and other places in this area. The beets are transported north to factories in Green Bay and Menominee, Mich.

The shipping season, which opened about two weeks ago, will continue to November 15. The Milwaukee Road is adding another daily freight train running between Hibert and Appleton. There are two trains daily now, one in the morning and one in the evening. Before the beet shipping season opened, there was only one freight on the line each day.

Suspend Two Captains For Mackinac Mishap

Cleveland.—(AP)—Thirty-day suspension of two Great Lakes captains as result of a ship collision last June 8 in the Straits of Mackinac, was announced last night by Captain Chester W. Willett, Great Lakes supervising inspector for the federal bureau of marine inspection and navigation.

Charged with failing to navigate at moderate speed in a fog, were Andrew S. Coleman of the City of Cheboygan and Louis F. Strahan of the St. Ignace. The vessels used for transporting automobiles, both are owned by the state of Michigan.

Fourteen persons were injured, none seriously, when the ships ran together in a dense straits fog.

Michigan County Votes Increase in Tax Rate

Iron River, Mich.—(AP)—A three mill tax increase proposal was authorized by Iron county electors in a special election Saturday, county officials announced late yesterday after canvassing the votes.

The margin by which the tax carried, 2,338 to 1,144, was only 17 over the required two-thirds majority.

The measure would raise $55,000 annually for three years for relief and WPA sponsorship purposes. More than 9,000 of the county's 21,000 residents are dependent on relief.

Cabbage Shipping Below 1938 Level

Reduction of 50 Per Cent Is Reported From Railroad Office

Cabbage shipments out of the Appleton area, Center Valley in particular, are about 50 per cent below last year's volume. Gilbert J. Baker, freight and passenger agent for the Soo line, reported today.

Up to last Sunday, the Soo line had shipped out 22 cars of cabbage, compared to 53 at the same time a year ago. Baker said that he expects the shipments for the entire year to show at least a 50 per cent slump from 1938, when a total of 124 cars were shipped out.

Smaller acreage and a smaller yield per acre were given as reasons for the decrease in shipments. Last season, with 124 cars, was one of the best in recent years. The total for 1937 was 80 and for 1936, 78.

Blames Smelt for Poor Fishing on Green Bay

Marinette.—Charles Pederson, a local fish dealer, was of the opinion today that smelt were to blame for one of the worst commercial fishing seasons in Green Bay.

Pederson predicted that until "nature takes care of the smelt," conditions would remain as bad. Recently hundreds of the smelt were found washed up on the shore of Little Bay De Noc, dead from a fungus growth.

The bay is good for only rougher species of fish, Pederson said, after having been a spawning ground for lake trout, whitefish and herring. Smelt have so clogged the nets that a dividend-paying catch is difficult, the dealer asserted.

Also Want Garner

Garner's personal desires would lead him back to Uvalde after 34 years of service in Washington. But he is deeply patriotic and strongly partisan. These two emotions might dominate his personal desires.

Vandenberg has his followers in virtually every middle western state. The Michigan senator is well thought of by many of the men who go far toward paying the way for the Republican party.

Dewey is believed about the vice presidency for obvious reasons. No candidate for a presidential nomination would care to compromise his chances of getting it by saying in advance that he would be willing to accept the second spot on the ticket.

But the Republicans would have a chance to make a bid for the big electoral vote of New York by putting him on the ticket. Few predict he has ever been elected without Dewey's vote. And few men have turned down the vice presidential nomination.

Sugar Beets are Shipped to North

From 20 to 40 Cars Go Out Daily From Area South of City

Shipments of sugar beets from the area south of Appleton are unusually heavy this year, it was reported from the office of the Milwaukee Road today.

From 20 to 40 cars are being shipped north each day from Neenah-Menasha, Hibert, Sherwood, St. John and other places in this area. The beets are transported north to factories in Green Bay and Menominee, Mich.

The shipping season, which opened about two weeks ago, will continue to November 15. The Milwaukee Road is adding another daily freight train running between Hibert and Appleton. There are two trains daily now, one in the morning and one in the evening. Before the beet shipping season opened, there was only one freight on the line each day.

Suspend Two Captains For Mackinac Mishap

Cleveland.—(AP)—Thirty-day suspension of two Great Lakes captains as result of a ship collision last June 8 in the Straits of Mackinac, was announced last night by Captain Chester W. Willett, Great Lakes supervising inspector for the federal bureau of marine inspection and navigation.

Charged with failing to navigate at moderate speed in a fog, were Andrew S. Coleman of the City of Cheboygan and Louis F. Strahan of the St. Ignace. The vessels used for transporting automobiles, both are owned by the state of Michigan.

Fourteen persons were injured, none seriously, when the ships ran together in a dense straits fog.

minutes. In addition, each senator would be permitted to speak for a total of 45 minutes on each amendment.

The agreement was reached after Senator Clark (D-Mo.) won a promise from Barkley not to call the senate into daily sessions earlier than 10 o'clock a. m. (C.S.T.) There was also an understanding that night sessions would not be held.

Barkley likewise announced, in answer to a query from Clark, that he had no intention of seeking to cut off debate on any germane amendment by moving to lay it on the table.

With the agreement out of the way, Senator Pittman (D-Ne.) obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of committee amendments to the bill, this automatically ending more than three weeks of general debate.

Earlier efforts blocked

Efforts to obtain an agreement heretofore had been blocked by senators opposed to repealing the arms embargo, although most of them professed to find acceptable in some degree other sections of the neutrality measure setting up controls over shipping and commerce with belligerent countries.

Today, however, opposition leaders agreed on a debate limitation. Meanwhile Senator Tobey (R-N.H.) said that responsibility for seizure of the American freighter City of Flint rested on members of the senate who defeated his motion two weeks ago to consider separately from arms embargo provisions those provisions of the neutrality bill relating to shipping.

Tobey declared that had his motion to split the neutrality bill passed congress it would have removed the hazards which accrue to ships from sailing through war zones.

Senator Byrnes (D-S.C.) a supporter of the administration bill, told reporters:

"Under the pending embargo repeal bill there would be no such incident as the City of Flint seizure, since American shipping would not be permitted to enter the danger zone."

Senator Connally (D-Texas), another backer of the bill, expressed his belief that not only seizure but sinking of American ships may be expected unless they are barred from the war zone.

"Of course, Hitler will sink American ships," he asserted, "whether they have munitions and arms aboard or ordinary articles of commerce. The Kaiser did it between 1914 and 1917."

Threatens Night Sessions

Democratic Leader Barkley made it plain that unless an agreement to limit debate was forthcoming, he would force the senate to hold night sessions.

The opposition group scheduled a meeting to discuss Barkley's proposal for a limitation on speeches. Barkley had suggested that future speeches be limited to 45 minutes on the bill and 45 minutes on each amendment.

While administration lieutenants were spending most of yesterday maneuvering for a limit on debate, Senator Nye (R-N.D.) criticized the administration bill and Majority Whip Minton (D-Ind.) upheld it.

Minton contended that Nye had sought to lift the arms embargo during the Spanish civil war.

Senator Hatch (D-N.M.) interrupted to ask whether repeal would have been unneutral in that instance.

"Yes," Minton shouted.

Raps Prayer For King

"At no time have I asked for repeal of the arms embargo with respect to war between nations," Nye interrupted. "I sought repeal of the embargo only with respect to a civil war that was in progress when the embargo was written."

Nye joined Senator Clark (D-Mo.) in criticizing a prayer offered last Sunday at the St. James Episcopal church in Hyde Park, N. Y., when President Roosevelt was among the worshippers. The Rev. Frank R. Wilson had prayed that the king of England be strengthened.

Nye declared that "there would have been criticism throughout the country" if a German Lutheran minister had prayed that Hitler be strengthened.

"It seems to me," remarked Senator Lee (D-Okla.), "that some senators are worrying more about a preacher praying for Great Britain than they are about Hitler preying on Poland."

Parish Will Make Canvass to Raise $5,300 for School

Campaign Designed to Meet Cost of St. Mary Building Improvements

A campaign to raise $5,300 to pay for the improvements on St. Mary school was announced at the masses Sunday morning at St. Mary Catholic church. The campaign will open Friday and a corps of 50 workers will canvass the entire parish within the following days.

This year St. Mary parish is observing the fiftieth anniversary of continuous operation of its parochial school, opened in 1864, one of the first parochial schools in the state, but did not operate continuously until some years later.

Dr. John B. Hanna, pastor of First Congregational church, is attending the one hundred thirtieth annual meeting of the American Board of the Congregational church today through Thursday at Pilgrim Congregational church, St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. club will have a Halloween party Friday night at the church. Last Sunday Dr. Hanna preached a sermon entitled "Shall There Be a Blackout of Religion?"

The Rev. William J. Spicer, rector of All Saints Episcopal church, will attend a convocation of the Fond du Lac diocese at Marinette Wednesday. Girls Friendly society will have a Halloween party Saturday evening.

Joint Meeting

A joint meeting and school of First Methodist church, school and that of the Neenah Methodist church was held last night at the local church. Dr. Louis C. Baker, professor of modern languages, will give another of his series of lectures on the European situation at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning in the little theater of the church, and the weekly school of missions will be held Thursday night with supper and movies on the Philippine Islands.

Dr. Harry C. Culver, pastor, spoke Sunday morning on "I Will Be Loyal."

Homebuilders of Memorial Presbyterian church will have an electric party Friday night at the church. Mr. and Mrs. John Goodrich are co-chairmen. The sermon last Sunday morning by the Rev. Robert K. Bell, pastor, was entitled "Affirmative Living."

"Christian Prayer" was the theme of the English sermon by the Rev. Theodore Marth at Zion Lutheran church last Sunday. At St. Paul Lutheran church the Rev. F. M. Brandt, pastor, preached on "Remember the Time" while the Rev. T. J. Sawyer, homophonous pastor, gave the German sermon. Pastor Brandt will perform the marriage Saturday at Sheboygan of Mrs. Brandt's brother, Wilfred Meyer, and Miss Vera Yerkman.

Deacons to Meet

Deacons and deaconesses of First Baptist church will meet at 7:30 Thursday night at the church. Friendship class will have a hard time party in the recreation room Friday night with Mrs. Grace Kuester and Mrs. Clarence Trentlage as hostesses and Mrs. Carl Ebert in charge of devotions. Last Sunday the Rev. R. Spangler, pastor, spoke on "God's Call in Human Affairs."

St. John Evangelical and Reformed church will have a special Brotherhood meeting this evening at the church. The Rev. A. Guenther, pastor, gave a sermon Sunday entitled "An Epoch Disciple."

At St. Joseph's church this week special event include a young people's dance Wednesday night at the hall following instructions for high school students, and a pillow slip card party Thursday night given by Ladies Aid society.

A prayer service for Appleton tabernacle will take place at 7:45 this evening. Women's Missionary Prayer band will meet at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon, and People's night will be observed at 7:45 Friday night at the Bible study service.

"Probation After Death" was the subject of the lesson-sermon for Sunday at First Church of Christ Scientist. The following passage was taken from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man's individual being can no more die nor disappear in unconsciousness than can Soul, for both are immortal. Death is but another phase of the dream that existence can be material. Life is deathless. Life is the origin and ultimate of man, never attainable through death, but gained by walking in the pathway of Truth both before and after that which is called death."

The major reason for this is the increase in hours of darkness, the bureau points out. Drivers who during the spring and summer go from office to home in daylight often fail to realize that it gets dark earlier with the approach of winter.

As an aid to motorists wishing to avoid trouble during the coming weeks, the bureau suggests that they watch out particularly for pedestrians, slow down at dusk, have headlights inspected and adjusted, watch out for wet leaves and avoid unnecessary night driving.

Stop for Arterials

October, November and December bring the highest number of fatalities on American highways, the National Conservation bureau, points out in a bulletin to Captain Charles Steidl of the county traffic police.

With the amount of travel during the last quarter of the year, no greater than during March, April and May, the automobile death total for the last three months of the year is about 25 per cent higher, averages for the last three years show. January, too, shows a higher accident rate per mile driven than the spring months.

South Greenville Grange to Observe 66th Anniversary

The South Greenville Grange, Greenville, will celebrate its sixty-sixth anniversary Friday evening at the Grange hall.

Karl Haugen, Appleton, will give an illustrated travel talk on "Laborator." A feature of the meeting will be the "family album" showing the pioneers of the community. An old fashioned style show also will be presented.

The meeting is open to the public and those attending are asked by the entertainment committee to bring basket lunches. Coffee will be served by the Grange.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes George Schaefer, master, Mr. and Mrs. John Schaefer, Mr. and Mrs. William Wismer, Mr. and Mrs. Hanford Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Pingel.

Free Enterprise In U. S. Depends On 2-Ocean Navy

Defense Against Attack Upon Sea Urged by Col. Frank Knox

Cleveland.—(AP)—Col. Frank Knox asserted today that the United States "can have a free enterprise system—can peace, or war—if we take advantage of our insular position and makes ourselves invulnerable to successful attack upon the sea."

The Chicago Daily News publisher said in a prepared address before a chamber of commerce group:

"With adequate sea power we will never need a huge army to defend ourselves, nor any such mobilization of material and manpower that would necessitate abandonment of democratic processes in government or the free enterprise system in business."

"The general assumption," he added, "is that if we are drawn into the war all free enterprise goes out the window and we pass swiftly from democracy to dictatorship in government and business."

He commented that "as Artemus Ward would say, 'This ain't so—not necessarily.'"

"I am one of those who refuse to believe we will actively participate in this new war—and certainly not to the extent of sending an army overseas," he said.

"And if we do not do that, all these trumped up fears of a wartime dictatorship and the destruction of both our democratic institutions and our free enterprise economy are fantastically unreal."

Col. Knox advocated a "two-ocean navy" equal to any that could be brought against the United States in either sea and a regular army of 300,000 men, supplemented by a well-equipped national guard.

"This would give us a first line defense on land of 600,000 men—all that we require to supplement our naval forces. Such a navy would require a personnel of not more than 200,000 men."

"Thus, we would have to withdraw from our civil pursuits not more than a half million men, in both army and navy, in order to be safe."

"It would provide no reason whatever for a dictatorial, totalitarian control of industry and business. We could live behind the shelter of that sea power as free men and enjoy to the full the advantage of a free enterprise system under which we have made the most amazing progress of any nation in the world."

He remarked that although we are "more wise and disillusioned" than at the outbreak of the world war "enlightened opinion throughout the country—in overwhelming proportions—opposes and detests both the philosophy and practices of Hitler and his Nazis in Germany."

More Births Than Deaths Reported In State in 1938

Cancer Mortality Rate Increases, Tuberculosis Shows Decrease

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

Washington.—Cancer is claiming more Wisconsin victims, while tuberculosis and automobile accidents are killing fewer, according to a special vital statistics report made public today by the bureau of the census, United States department of commerce.

Births exceeded deaths in Wisconsin last year by 24,300, the report shows. A total of 55,004 births resulted in a birth rate of 188 persons for every 10,000 persons in the state. The 30,704 deaths made a death rate of 105 persons for every 10,000.

Babies under 1 year old accounted for 2,301 of the total deaths, showing that out of every 10,000 babies born alive in the state, 418 died before they were a year old—a rate considered higher than is necessary by the United States children's bureau, headed by Miss Katharine F. Lenroot, formerly of Madison and Superintendent.

The cancer death rate last year increased from 135.1 per 100,000 estimated population in 1937 to 140.3 last year. The tuberculosis rate dropped from 35.4 in 1937 to 32.1 last year.

Accident Rate Decreases

The decrease in the motor vehicle accident rate was from 30.5 for every 100,000 people to 24.3 last year.

Four sets of triplets and 546 sets of twins were born in Wisconsin last year. Of the triplets, two sets consisted of one boy and two girls, one of two boys and one girl, and one set was all girls.

Mothers between the ages of 20 and 24 years had 17,099 of last year's babies, leading all other age groups. The mothers between 25 and 29 were next, giving birth to 15,773 babies.

Accidents killed 2,145 people in Wisconsin last year, an increase from 1,935 in 1937. Of the total, 482 people died as the result of falls in the homes, and 11 were drowned in homes.

Six people died of the cold in the Badger state last year, and 15 were killed by lightning.

Impersonation Case Is Dismissed at Waupaca

Waupaca.—County Judge A. M. Scheller yesterday dismissed the case in which Harry T. Mahoney, Green Bay, was charged with impersonating another and receiving money through such impersonation. Mahoney had pleaded not guilty to the charge when he was arraigned in justice court at New London with two companions last May and yesterday he entered county court to enter a plea of guilty which was not accepted by Judge Scheller.

The trio was charged with getting advertising for a directory without proper authorization. Mahoney was ordered to return a third of the funds they were charged with collecting. William Ryan and Maurice Johnson, Green Bay, who are facing similar charges, are awaiting trial in circuit court.

Lions Officials Hold District Parley Here

Representatives of District 27-B of Lions International attended a district governor's cabinet meeting last night at Hotel Appleton, discussing administrative matters.

Ben Laird, Appleton, deputy district governor, was one of the men present. C. W. Webb, Chicago, represented Lions International. He is a field representative from the executive department of the organization.

Other men present were O. C. Eborhardt, deputy district governor, and R. H. Schmidt, both of Clintonville; R. C. Bleser, secretary-treasurer of the cabinet, and A. H. Fanslow, district governor, both of Two Rivers; and J. H. Murphy, deputy district governor, New Holstein.

Second Year of Wage, Hour Law Effective Today

Economic Effects May Not be Felt for Months, Lawrence Says

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—Economic effects of the inauguration today of the second year of the wage and hour law will not be felt immediately, but in weeks and perhaps months to come.

The novel situation of a government ordering a blanket increase in hourly pay and a flat limitation on the maximum hours that can be worked before overtime is paid is something to which the American economic system has not yet become accustomed, because there are some occupations, such as retailing and agriculture, to which the law does not apply.

Likewise, there are industries where the work week is already two hours below the new maximum of 40 and the pay is higher than the new minimum of 30 cents an hour.

But that the new law will tend to give an excuse for an increase in prices wherever practicable cannot be doubted, so that the consumer will in the end pay the bill, and, if the price rise is too abrupt, consumption will be curtailed and unemployment will result.

The defenders of the present statute argue that a relatively small number of workers are affected by the new law, possibly about 2,300,000 out of 45,000,000 gainfully employed in America, but the principle embodied in the law is far-reaching because, if congress can set a maximum of 42 hours, it can set one of 30 hours, and, if it can put the hourly rate at 30 cents, it can put it at any other figure which the pressure groups hereafter may insist upon.

Part of Politics
The experience with the new law is too fragmentary to know how much party politics is going to play a part in the future, but it will be noted that, in the past, pressure to get congress to increase bounties and pay bonuses or subsidies or to guarantee higher wages scales for WPA workers has not been by any means inconsequential.

At the moment, too, the emphasis is on hours and wages. Some future congress, motivated by a desire to cure a depression, may find it necessary to prescribe working standards of output. For, if congress may constitutionally fix wages and hours, it must also have the power to say whether the output is being measured accordingly.

For the government here to set standards of production would be comparable to what some European governments have done in regulating the national economy, but this is part and parcel of the whole scheme of governmental supervision of the life of the worker which the wage and hour law introduces.

Although many industries and businesses are not affected by the new hours and wage rates, they are affected by the necessity of keeping records and of fixing overtime and defining what workers shall or shall not be kept overtime. In some instances, where high-salaried workers would willingly work bare and 40 hours, the employer is prevented from accepting such offers and, on the other hand, finds it too expensive to pay already highly paid men the rate of time and one-half for overtime. The definitions, moreover, of what constitutes an "executive" are so ambiguous as to make the average employer naturally hesitant to give himself the benefit of the doubt. Hence, costs rise and efficiency is to a certain extent impaired, especially in small businesses.

As usual with most of the reform laws, they help the big monopolies and profitable businesses and play havoc with the smaller concerns and marginal companies which have a hard time making ends meet. There has been, of course, some discussion of regulating these matters by the state or industry, but no plan has been offered yet which takes care of the marginal companies which are struggling to maintain employment, nor is there any practicable plan for assisting those employees who are above the minimum wage brackets, but who cannot be advanced in wages till the heavier cost due to the new law has been absorbed.

Broadly speaking, the change this year and the one coming a year hence, when the work week must be 40 hours will take time to digest. If America enters a period of prosperity, the schedules will be taken in their stride by the businesses of the country, but, unfortunately, the prospect of a uniform prosperity has rarely been realized, because, in a period of widespread readjustment, some industries are down while others are up.

The net result will be to improve the situation among those of lowest income, and deeper improvement for those who are above the minimum and defer improvement for those of advanced age or those partly handicapped in physical strength. These disadvantages, however, under the reform concept, are offset by the advantage of redistribution of income for a large number.

County Citizenship Group Will be Named

A general committee to supervise a county citizenship program will be named at a meeting of school officials and representatives of various organizations in Outagamie county at 8 o'clock this evening at the courthouse. Plans will be made for a program to be carried out throughout the winter and climaxed with a citizenship day program next May. Henry J. Van Straten, county superintendent of schools, will preside at the meeting.

Your Post-Crescent Carrier

(Summer and winter, rain or shine, the Appleton Post-Crescent is delivered daily to the doorsteps of its readers. The Post-Crescent's carriers are a highly intelligent and intensely interesting group of boys and among them will be found many of the civic and industrial leaders of tomorrow. So that subscribers may become better acquainted with these young men, the Post-Crescent will present each one of them in picture and brief biographical sketch.)

GEORGE Heegeman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Heegeman, Sr., 1616 E. John street. He's been a carrier four years, covering 200 and 300 blocks of W. Washington, a block on Appleton street and one on College avenue, and "chunks" of Franklin, N. Division, and Packard.

Born in Appleton, he is 19 years old. Likes football and plays right guard for the 13th Ward Bombers. Attended Appleton Vocational school one year and Appleton High school three. You don't have to coax very hard to get him to go fishing on Lake Winnebago.

Invasion of Netherlands Would Shock U. S. Opinion

Washington—Are the Netherlands next on the list? From both Paris and London come dispatches, which bear the marks of authenticity, reporting suspicions in informed quarters that Germany contemplates a lightning stroke against the Netherlands. The purpose of such an attack would be, partly to flank the French perhaps, but mainly to use Holland as an advance base for submarine and air attacks against Great Britain. Such a maneuver would bring Germany considerably closer to England, which is the real target.

From a strictly military point of view, there is little doubt that such a stroke is practicable. Information picked up on the allied side is that the Germans figure they could get through to the Dutch coast in 48 hours. To be sure the Netherlands would resist with their small army and would attempt to flood the lowlands. Yet military experts consider her practically helpless against Germany, a giant by comparison. It is doubtful if anything could stop the Germans from cutting a corridor across Holland in a quick, savage thrust. France could not interpose without violating Belgian neutrality. Thus the means are at hand and the objective naturally is tempting to military minds that are oblivious to other considerations.

But there are other considerations. Battles may be won by military might alone. But not wars. For all that the occupation of Belgium in the last war meant to the German army from a strictly military point of view, it was a costly enterprise because it lost to Germany the respect and sympathy of the rest of the world. What was the profit to Germany in the sinking of the Lusitania, which inflamed American opinion and set this country definitely in a hostile mood?

Case Of Belgium
Even such pretext as the Germans were able to devise for the invasion of Belgium is totally lacking in the case of the Netherlands. Belgium, although a technical neutral, was regarded as the first line of defense for France. Holland, on the contrary, is a passionate neutral. She remained neutral throughout the last war. She has refused to enter nonaggression pacts with other powers, feeling that her immunity from invasion should rest not on pacts but on history, international law and right. Germany has no defensive excuse. An invasion of the Netherlands would shock American opinion and all neutral opinion as a purely ruthless act of aggression, a trampling down of a helpless nation in order to take a heavier swing at the British.

Germany surely will not be blind to the recent experience of the Soviet union, which apparently was on the verge of a maneuver at the expense of Finland. American reaction was decidedly unfavorable, and in response to this feeling Mr. Roosevelt dropped a friendly hint in Moscow which appears to have had a sobering effect. American public opinion, although opposed to becoming involved in the war, is far from callous to flagrant aggression against helpless neutrals.

Dutch Hold Special Place In U. S. Tradition
This country always has had a warm place in its affections for the Dutch, a small, sturdy, self-respecting nation which mends its own business, not allowing itself to be used by either side. The Dutch have held a special place in the American tradition and Dutch blood has come down through three of our presidents, the two Roosevelts and Van Buren.

Germany has given pledges to respect the neutrality of the Netherlands. Yet Germany has concentrated troops opposite the Dutch border and suspicions of German intentions have become widespread in England, France and here. It is safe to say that this government and the American people would view a threat against the Netherlands with the same concern that was so strongly manifest a few days ago in the case of Finland.

And it is inconceivable that the German government could be so oblivious to that as to go ahead with such a stroke as is now feared, for to do so would be to incur complete moral isolation.

Family Reunion Held At Verhagen Dwelling At Combined Locks
Combined Locks—A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Verhagen in honor of their son Adrian of Bear Creek Corners. Y Campaign Ends With Membership Quota Surpassed

Emblem Club Awards are Presented at Final Dinner Meeting

Final reports on the Appleton Y.M.C.A. financial campaign made last night at a dinner meeting in the association building revealed that the campaign workers overshot their 1200 membership goal by 89 but fell $468 short of the $15,000 they sought.

"Y" leaders and officials expressed satisfaction with the campaign, pointing out that in actual cash the workers brought in about $600 more than last year at this time. An additional 74 members and $833.25 in valuation were added to the campaign's total at last night's gathering.

Last night's additions bring the membership to 1,289 and the valuation to $14,531.

T. E. Orbison, president of the association, William E. Buchanan and William U. Gallaher, co-chairmen for the campaign, presented Emblem club awards. The awards go to outstanding workers in the campaign.

Orbison presented the 25-member award to Phil Ottman and the 10-member award to those in the 10-member bracket as follows: The Rev. G. H. Blum, Billie Bleier, Dr. Louis C. Baker, William E. Buchanan, Cecil Furninger, William U. Gallaher, Guy Stearns, Clark Teel, the Rev. John Wilson, Margaret Reitzner, and George F. Werner.

Buchanan presented 5-member awards to the following: Guy Barlow, J. J. Benson, W. D. Blum, William L. Crow, Stanley Gillespie, Paul Grady, William Jahnke, Carl Kozelke, Norman LaMar, Dale McDowell, Ray Monteith, John Trautmann, Sr., Carlson Trettin, Mrs. Katherine Wickesberg, Harold Woelher, Delores Wonsner, and Lawrence Zimmerman.

The following workers received 3-member awards from Gallaher: Alvin Anckerson, Kenneth H. Corbett, A. P. Forrest, Rosella Hanson, Paul Kleist, Captain T. A. Raber, and Ross E. Williams.

Council Agrees to Change in Zoning

Block on Wisconsin Avenue Would be Made Heavy Industrial

The Appleton city council at an informal meeting yesterday afternoon in city hall agreed to change part of a block on Wisconsin avenue from a local business to a heavy industrial zone if the Olson Transportation company decides to use the property.

The council followed a recommendation of the planning commission in agreeing to the change.

The property involved is on the southwest corner of the intersection of Wisconsin avenue and Meade street. The north half of that block is in the local business zone, the south half a heavy industrial. The transportation company, which is considering building in that block, requested that the council change the rating of the north half of the block to heavy industrial so the company could carry on operations there.

The property affected by the change has about a 125-foot frontage on Wisconsin avenue and about 112 feet on Meade street. However, the transportation company is interested in the property that extends an additional 100 feet south on Meade street to Summer street and that fronts about 54 feet on Summer street.

The company proposed to build a garage on the property at the corner of Meade and Summer streets and to use the land fronting on Wisconsin avenue for the movement and parking of trucks.

Clarence Bachmann Is Placed on Probation

Tells How Vast Wave Engulfed American Liner

Seaman Washed Overboard From Crow's Nest 80 Feet Above Water Line

New York—(AP)—How Paul (Red) Johnson, a cabin steward on the American liner President Harding was washed overboard to his death by a wave so vast that it went over the ship's lofty crow's nest was described yesterday at a federal inquiry by his fellow crew members.

The crow's nest is about 80 feet above the waterline.

Johnson, a resident of Stoughton, Wis., died in a hurricane which struck the crowded liner last Tuesday as it made its way to New York with nearly 600 passengers fleeing the European war zones.

Raymond C. Henderson, a waiter, testified he was with Johnson just before the wave struck.

"There were three of us up there near the hospital looking at the storm," said Henderson. "He (Johnson) started to walk along the deck, and then the wave hit us, and I grabbed a stanchion and hung on. I should be to the others to hang on to something and I saw (Rudolph) Fischer, the ship's interpreter, in the scupper, hanging on to a lower stanchion. I didn't see Johnson again."

Walter Ruta, water tender, told of having seen Johnson and Fischer at the rail, and of having "wondered what those two fools were doing there."

He added he saw the wave coming and was thrown to the deck but somehow was able to hang on.

Percy Braatz Honored At Surprise Gathering

Shiocton—Relatives and friends were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Braatz Sunday afternoon in honor of his birthday anniversary. The event was a surprise for Mr. Braatz. Kimberly Mill Is Preparing for Big Crowd of Visitors

Over 800 Employees and Members of Families Expected to Make Tour

Kimberly—Arrangements are well underway at the Kimberly mill to entertain more than eight hundred employees and members of their families during visitors hours Thursday, Nov. 2 when the fourth annual Kimberly mill and community safety day will be held. The departments to be visited in the mill include machine shop, woodroom, boiler house, sulphate digester room, wet machine room, groundwood, old and new bleachery, heater room, paper-machine room, finishing room, cutter room and chlorine department. H. H. Heller, chairman of the guide committee said that the chlorine department visit will be made only on request.

Registration cards were given to all employees this week on which members of employees may register as to the time preferred. The trips will be scheduled from 10 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Approximately one hour will be required for each trip. Before or after each tour, visitors will be invited to the safety movie, entitled "Romance of Papermaking." After each tour, free refreshments will be served.

This year Kimberly-Clark employees have planned a tour for all members of their families, including children of high school age or over to acquaint them with safety practices and equipment used at the mill. Formerly exhibits, replicas and miniatures of mill conditions were built in the clubhouse. The group is attempting to display the life-size machine and equipment from a safety standpoint.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fritz entertained friends and relatives Sunday evening at their home in honor of their tenth wedding anniversary. Guests included Mrs. Joseph Zink, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Kronforst and children, Kaukauna; Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Ganga, Mich., who are spending the week at the Fritz home.

DEATHS

CARL SOMMERS, 83, Appleton, died at 9 o'clock Sunday evening. He was born Jan. 30, 1856, in Germany. Among survivors are five children.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at Sawyer funeral home, Shiocton, by the Rev. Louis Mielke. Burial will be in Bovina cemetery.

CRONCE FUNERAL

Funeral services for Mrs. Louise Cronce, 63, Fond du Lac, who died Saturday evening after a short illness, will be conducted at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at Dugan's Funeral home, Fond du Lac, and burial will be in Rienzi cemetery there. She was born at Black Creek July 11, 1876.

It Is Said--

That an Appleton resident purchased a license for his dog the other day. A few hours later he found the dog dead. It had been shot. The owner is wondering whether he can get a rebate on the license.

That while hunting over the weekend, William Kreiss, municipal court reporter, saw a fat duck flying out of range of his gun. Kreiss, who prides himself on his natural duck call, strained his throat muscles and his "qua-a-a-ck" carried out into the wind. The duck circled and, spreading his wings, sailed into range. Kreiss picked up his gun, rested the stock against his shoulder, took aim and pulled at the trigger. Nothing happened! The duck sailed out of range. The disappointed hunter looked at his gun and found he had the safety catch on.

Woman Hurt in Fall, Is Reported Improved

Waukegan—The condition of Mrs. Arlington Sterns, who was critically hurt when she fell from a haymow at her farm home last Friday, was reported slightly improved today at the Waukegan City hospital. Mrs. Sterns was helping with farm chores following an accident in which her husband injured his foot, and she was pushing hay down a chute when she fell onto a pitchfork that was standing below.

Red Cross Training Course Is Postponed

A series of Red Cross instruction meetings scheduled to start last night for Outagamie county traffic officers has been postponed until after the FBI training school is held, according to Charles Steidl, captain of the county traffic squad. The FBI school will be held here Nov. 13 to 24.

Plead Guilty of Drunken Driving

One Motorist Fined $50; Second Awaiting Sentence in Circuit Court

Waukegan—Two motorists pleaded guilty of drunken driving when they appeared before Justice of the Peace S. W. Johnson yesterday.

John McCandless, Menasha, was fined $50 and costs. McCandless, who had his driving license revoked on a previous occasion and was driving on a conditional license since last July, had the latter revoked. He was arrested in the town of Waukegan Saturday night after it was reported he was driving in an erratic manner.

Otto Gunderson, Waukegan, besides pleading guilty of drunken driving, also pleaded guilty of driving without a license and of being a repeater. His driving license had been revoked in 1937. He was arrested Monday following recovery from injuries he suffered in a traffic accident in which he was charged with drunken driving. He was bound over to circuit court for sentence Saturday.

Road Committee Awards Contract on Gasoline

The Marston Bros. company was awarded a contract for furnishing the county highway department with two 8,000-gallon tank cars of gasoline at a meeting of the county highway committee yesterday. The Marston bid, .0799 cents per gallon without state tax, was the lowest of five bids. The committee will seek bids until Nov. 3 on 8,000 gallons of asphalt for patching work. Bids amounting to $4,151.05 were allowed.

Grading of Harriman Street Starts Today

The Appleton street department today was grading Harriman street, from Parkway to the city limits.

The department yesterday finished grading Lawe street, from Alice to Nicholas, and later this week will grade Verbrick street, from Bouten to Adams. The Verbrick street project will be the last of the fall grading. Alfred Wickesberg, city engineer, reported.

TALKS AT SHEBOYGAN

C. E. Bailey, boys director of the Appleton Y. M. C. A., addressed the Sheboygan Rotary club at noon yesterday. Bailey talked on boys work.

WISCONSIN WEATHER

Cloudy tonight and Wednesday, with intermittent rain; warmer tonight, colder west and central portions Wednesday afternoon.

General Weather

Showers have occurred since yesterday morning over the northern and central Pacific coast and light showers over southern Wisconsin and sections of the lower Lakes, but generally fair weather prevailed this morning over nearly all sections of the country.

Cool weather continues over the north central and northern portions of the country, and it is quite cold over the northern Rocky mountains, with 23 degrees recorded at Havre, Mont.

Rain is expected in this section during the next 24 hours, with rising temperature tonight.

Hitler's Nephew To Give Talk at Teachers' Confab

Nephew of Dictator to Discuss Conditions in Germany

William Patrick Hitler, English nephew of Adolf Hitler, German dictator, will discuss German conditions at the annual convention of the Wisconsin Educational association at Milwaukee Nov. 2, 3 and 4. A large number of Outagamie county teachers will attend the convention.

The appearance of W. P. Hitler as closing speaker on the convention program will climax a meeting which promises to be both highly informative as well as entertaining. The international scene will receive primary consideration with the appearance of Jan Masaryk, son of the first president of Czechoslovakia and prominent diplomat at the Court of St. James, London, as one of the speakers on the opening day of the convention. Masaryk, now in London and scheduled to fly to the United States via clipper plane to keep his engagement with Wisconsin teachers, will talk on the subject, "Civilization in Peril."

Three of the speakers for the state teachers meeting will discuss internal problems and their relationship to international affairs. William A. Irwin, assistant education director for the American Institute of Banking, will address the teachers on "The American Way" on Thursday morning; Stanley High, prominent feature writer for the Readers Digest and the Saturday Evening Post answers the question "What Must Democracy Do To Be Saved?", Friday morning; and Dr. Ruth Alexander, prominent woman speaker from Chicago, will be the first speaker on the Saturday program speaking on "Today Belongs To Youth."

In addition to the speakers who will discuss international and internal political and economic problems, the teachers will hear a famous schoolman on Friday morning when Claude Fues, headmaster of Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., speaks to them on "The Code of the Schoolmaster."

As a special entertainment feature on Tuesday evening the teachers will have an opportunity of seeing a special dance program presented by the world-famous Ted Shawn dancers, who will present a 3-act dance recital depicting dramatic phases of American history.

U. S. Army Will Enlist Recruits Here Two Days

Enlistments in the United States army will be taken by a special recruiting party at the Army Wednesday and Thursday. The unit will arrive in Appleton between 8:30 and 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and will be escorted to the Army by a police escort.

The unit will include several trucks, equipped with guns and other war equipment, and it will parade about the principal city streets in the afternoon. A searchlight demonstration will be given during the evening.

Appleton is one of six cities in the state in which temporary recruiting quarters are being set up to take enlistments. Information may be had at the Army. The enlistments will be taken and examinations given there.

Traffic Officers at State Meeting Today

William Glasheen, William Rohan and Jack Frenz, county traffic officers, are attending a semi-annual meeting of the Wisconsin Traffic Officers association at Oshkosh today. A round-table discussion of legislation affecting highway police was held this morning. Glasheen, president of the association, is presiding at the meeting.

Allies Paying Out Rope to Herr Hitler in Hopes He'll Hang Himself in Long Run

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
New York — (AP) — The Anglo-French allies have made it abundantly clear that their land strategy from now on in Europe's fantastic war is to sit tight and pay out plenty of rope to Herr Hitler in the belief he will hang himself in the long run.

Being convinced that the only sort of conflict the Nazi leader originally was equipped for was a blitzkrieg (lightning war), which became a pet phrase of his, the allies have reached the comfortable conclusion that he already has lost the opportunity of waging such a war and is beginning to feel the lack of sinews for a protracted session.

The allied policy of watchful waiting on the western front, however, doesn't mean that the war has died at birth, as a lot of folk mistakenly believe. It's a crazy war but it's still alive.

The Anglo-French (mainly English) naval blockade represents the fiercest offensive they are capable of waging against Germany at this time.

It's Not Spectacular

It isn't spectacular like a land operation. But it's there just the same—a noose which is calculated to strangle the Reich unless Hitler can break it.

The fuchrer is devoting his chief energies to torpedoing his way through this hunger-ring, and at the same time is trying to sink enough British merchant shipping to squeeze an England which is dependent on the outside world for three-quarters of her own food supplies.

If anybody thinks submarine warfare isn't real war, let him experience it. I went through long weeks of it during the World war when the German unrestricted U-boat campaign was at its height.

School Grounds to Have Landscaping

Work on Appleton High School Property Starts This Week

An extensive landscaping program opens this week on the grounds of Appleton High school. The work will be done by WPA labor.

According to plans, the landscape will be divided into four units, the region directly in front of the academic section, the grounds in front of the auditorium, the region near the shops and the portion southeast of the gymnasium.

This week only the deciduous trees and shrubs will be planted in front of the academic section and the auditorium wing. The first planting will include pines, juniper, spruce and black hill spruce.

Later in the school year, the campus in front of the academic section will be planted with poplars, maples, current bushes, rose bushes, lilacs, spirea, barberry and hydrangea. An elm tree that will be planted is a direct descendant of an elm tree planted by George Washington, according to the nursery which is supervising the work.

The grounds in front of the auditorium wing will be planted with honeysuckle, spirea, poplars, barberry, maples, snowberry bushes and dogwood and crab apple trees. No work will be done on the other two sections of the campus until funds are made available.

Russia Cautious

The Anglo-French allies have been openly leaning over backward in order not to do anything which might irritate the Soviet to join arms with the Nazis. At the same time Russia, while reaching fast and far in extending her influence in eastern Europe, has worked with a very cautious outlook.

There has been no indication that Russia wants war with the allies. A good guess is that the soviet intends to remain "neutral," at least for the present, and play the Anglo-French allies and Germany against each other for the ultimate benefit of Communism.

Pep Session to Open Homecoming At High School

College Avenue Parade Will be Presented Saturday Morning

Festivities for homecoming week at Appleton High school will begin officially Friday afternoon with a pep rally in the auditorium. Cheers, songs and a student pep band will set off the homecoming.

Armin Scheurle, Jr., chairman of homecoming, will introduce Coach Myron Seims and members of the varsity squad to the high school audience. The rally will end when the entire audience rises to sing the alma mater. John Hammer is chairman of the pep session committee.

Friday evening homecoming enthusiasts will gather around a bonfire in the neighborhood of the high school. After another session of informal cheering and singing, the group will hold a "snake dance" to the downtown district. Mabel Loese, Richard Pardee and Roger Kirkede have charge of this part of homecoming.

The traditional homecoming parade will assemble at 10:30 Saturday morning and will proceed down College avenue to the Lawrence college chapel. The parade will consist of a police escort, the Appleton High school band, floats arranged by Hi-Y and other clubs of the high school, SOTAL drum corps and students in a snake dance. Jean Rindal and Ruby Loese have charge of arrangements for the parade.

Highlight of the day will be the football game with East Green Bay in the afternoon at Whiting field. Homecoming will be brought to a close with a council dance in the high school gymnasium Saturday evening.

Strong Sentiment in South for Repeal of War Arms Embargo

By American Institute of Public Opinion

Princeton, N. J.—After a month of Congressional debate on the question of changing the neutrality act, the nation-wide surveys of the American Institute of Public Opinion show one striking fact about opinion in the different sections of the country:—

Voters in the 13 Southern states—from Virginia to Texas—are substantially more in favor of changing the act than the voters of any other section.

While 60 voters in every hundred throughout the United States are indicated in favor of neutrality revision, the figure in the Southern area averages 73 persons per hundred.

The lowest sentiment for revision of the act, on the other hand, comes from New England and from the traditionally "isolationist" sections of the West and Mississippi Valley.

Interestingly enough the debate in the Senate has ranged Southern legislators almost unanimously on the side of the Pittman revision, while many of the Senators from the Mid-West—Capper, Nye, Clark, Vandenberg, and others—are opposing the bill.

In the latest Institute survey voters in every state were asked: "Do you think Congress should make changes in the neutrality law, so that England and France or any other nations can buy war supplies, including arms and airplanes, in the United States?" The vote by sections on the question is:

	YES	NO
New England	56%	44%
Mid-Atlantic	59%	41%
East Central	57%	43%

West Central	60	40
South	75	25
West	58	42

Previous Institute surveys have shown a greater reservoir of actual and latent war sentiment in the Southern states than elsewhere, a greater number believing that a German victory should menace the United States, and a smaller number favoring a vote of the people before U. S. troops could be drafted for service overseas.

In the survey reported Friday, on the question: "If it appears that Germany is defeating England and France, should the United States declare war on Germany and send our Army and Navy abroad to fight?" the national vote was "Yes," 29 per cent; "No," 71 per cent.

Sectional figures, published for the first time today, show that the South is much more willing to see the United States intervene than are other sections of the country:

	YES	NO
If Allies Are Losing?
South	33%	67%
New England	27%	73%
Mid-Atlantic	25%	75%
East Central	26%	74%
West Central	47%	53%
West	28%	72%

On the question of declaring war at the present time, 90 per cent of Southern voters say "Yes," as

Newly Married Couple Is Honored at Party

Sherwood—Mrs. Edward Koutnik was hostess to the following at a party at her home on Sunday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Koutnik who were married recently. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Haen and daughters Martha, Irene and Helen and son Leo, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Kline, Mr. Ed Klein, Mrs. Louise Rascke, Mrs. Marie Heinen, son Billy and daughter Jean, Mrs. Elizabeth Koutnik, Kaukauna.

Cyril Klister, Wrightstown, Miss Gladys Brochtrup, Greenleaf; Miss Helen Tenneson, Clarence Lunak, Misses Rose and Gertrude Eckes, Wenzel Eckes, Mrs. Katherine Mueller, Mrs. N. J. Olson and daughters Betty and Dorothy and son Bob, Andrew Falk, Peter Steusher and Cyril Mader, Sherwood.

Dancing was the diversion of the evening with music for the occasion being given by Mrs. John Haen and son Leo and Cliff Koutnik. A number of vocal selections were given by Misses Betty and Dorothy Olson and Peter Steusher, Mrs. Koutnik served an 11 o'clock lunch.

Fifty cars of sugar beets were shipped from the Sherwood station by Monday with from 40 to 45 tons of beets loaded to the car. By the close of the season this company expects to ship about 80 cars which will be the largest number shipped in one season thus far. Beets are compared with 5 per cent for the country as a whole. Southerners are also much more willing to fight to defend South American countries from attack, if invaded, although not substantially more willing to defend Canada from invasion, according to Institute tests.

The 13 Southern states are: Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas.

Carry Off All Cigarettes And Small Amount of Cash From Each Place

Chilton — The George Hemauer general store and the Carl Golmefsky drug store in Stockbridge were entered Saturday night, and small amounts of cash were taken from each place and all cigarettes in each store were taken. Sheriff G. B. Jensen is working on the case but no clue to the burglars has been uncovered.

passing through the local station at the rate of 60 cars a day according to a report by N. J. Olson, station agent.

Isn't This Why You Are Constipated?

What do you eat for breakfast? Coffee, toast, maybe some eggs? What do you eat for lunch and dinner? White bread, meat, potatoes? It's little wonder you're constipated. You probably don't eat enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean the amount you eat. It's a kind of food that forms a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a movement. If this is your trouble, may we suggest a crunchy toasted cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran—for breakfast. All-Bran is a natural food, not a medicine—but it's particularly rich in "bulk." Being so, it can help you not only to get regular but to keep regular. You won't have to endure constipation, you can avoid it. Eat All-Bran daily, drink plenty of water, and life will be brighter for you! Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

British Tommies at Front Will Broadcast
By RICHARD D. MALLAN
With the British Expeditionary Force in France—(Passed by field censor)
For the first time in history, British soldiers in active service abroad are going to broadcast the folks back home.
The British Broadcasting company has brought equipment to the army's general headquarters and plans, eventually, to broadcast actual battles on the French-German border.
Meanwhile, the Tommies will broadcast incidents from their lives at the front where they man pill boxes, trenches and big guns.
In this manner, mothers "somewhere in Great Britain" will hear the voices of sons "somewhere in France," know that they are safe and learn as much as the soldiers are permitted to tell of army life in this way.
The BBC has a mobile unit equipped for direct broadcasts.

THE ATHENIA DEBATE RATTLES ON

Herr Goebbels, the Reich's propaganda minister, didn't help Germany's cause with his recent address accusing Winston Churchill, Britain's first lord of the admiralty, of sinking the Athenia deliberately for the purpose of provoking a war spirit in this country.

In fact if those who argue with all the bluster and denunciation of Goebbels could be kept out of the picture the people of this country might come to believe that Germany was not intentionally concerned in the torpedoing of that particular boat.

Immediately upon the sinking of the Athenia public opinion in this country did conclude that a German U-boat had done the work, and despite the immediate and emphatic denial from Berlin. American opinion was supported by statements of some passengers that they had seen a U-boat in the distance.

Opinion here had gone against the Germans, too, because of their bad record in the previous world war in respect to just such sinkings.

But as this war progressed and the Reich exercised a high degree of care even amid the most difficult circumstances to protect the lives of neutrals and noncombatants, American opinion naturally began to question its first conclusion and lean toward the opinion that a mine may have caused the disaster.

Then came one of the passengers, Gustav Anderson of Evanston, Illinois, who was a passenger on the boat and made affidavit that some of its seamen told him the vessel was carrying guns for Canadian defense and was thereafter to be outfitted as a raider on the high seas. The fact that Dr. Goebbels selected the Anderson evidence for favorable comment is perfectly natural but should lead us all to take an apothecary's scales and weigh that evidence. What likelihood is there that a seaman knew the purposes of the English admiralty, or even of the captain of his ship? Do seamen make it a practice to tell passengers lurid tales? Can anyone, in fact, beat an ordinary seaman for creating whoppers? Just why did England send guns to Canada to defend her when England herself is so much nearer the arena of warfare? And if the Athenia were to be fitted out as a raider upon whom was it to make raids?

The Anderson evidence, when one gets through looking at it on all sides, isn't very convincing. But now from Germany comes the statement of an American correspondent that Anderson, operator of a travel bureau, stood high in Nazi circles.

It is needless to go further. Facts cannot be proved by a piecemeal examination of an extensive record.

But the Reich should be able to see in this situation how far a nation can go that obtains a good name for fairness and how little is trusted the nation that doesn't.

INDUSTRY AND MILK

From New York state where paper containers for milk are becoming general comes word that this indispensable beverage in every home is now being delivered in two-quart paper containers at a saving to the purchaser of 3 cents on each delivery.

It was about time that industry did something highly practical and worthwhile for the dairy industry. Its development of a leakless, impervious, cheap milk container made of paper that may be afterwards used to help start the fire seems to be what has been expected of it for long.

We are advised that in the New York territory where these containers have been used by extensive dairy distribution systems the distributors report their customers highly pleased at the change, the ease in handling the product and the saving in price.

In respect to an article as common as milk which has been bruised every time the government sought a way to help it, we learn that its greatest assistance came from a practical improvement worked out in the brains of men and pushed on to completion by the reserves set aside by successful corporations and employed by them in chemical and other experimentation.

FINLAND IS A MENACE TO RUSSIA

In a short time Finland became one of the most outstanding democracies in the world. She has the best sort of social security. It was built upon a realistic basis. It isn't anything like ours where worker and employer pay in billions for a political organization to scatter and squander. Travelers throughout Finland have looked in vain for a beggar and there is so much work and it so well regulated that relief seldom becomes necessary excepting in the case of accident or a series of unusual misfortunes.

Although the Soviets bottle up their people like a jailer does his charges, although they will not permit the printing nor the speaking of a word concerning the welfare of those under a democracy that has functioned beautifully, news of this kind travels and no doubt the story of Finland has infiltrated far into the Russian land.

Thoughtful Russians must have nothing but affection and respect for Finland just as America doffs its hat to the dignity of a people who ascertained that that dignity was to be found in work, peace and truth.

But the scowling brows in the Kremlin are menaced by every nation where the people are free and successful. It is the masters of the Russian people who are attempting to guide affairs so as to cripple, humiliate and finally destroy another shining example so close at hand.

Russia's attitude is not unlike that of monarchies, particularly during the Middle Ages, in their relations to democracies. Kings considered it a primary duty to find some way through falsehood and conspiracy to destroy each budding democracy lest a successful example of that kind lead their people away from the throne.

Considering all the plots against them and the hatefulness of the feeling toward them must we not conclude that the democracies are made of a pretty tough fiber after all?

NO TEARS WANTED

Coach Shaughnessy says he doesn't want any tears shed over his Chicago university football team. Neither he nor his boys are asking any commiseration for their 61 to 0 licking by Harvard or that little 85 to 0 number with Michigan.

"We just like to play football," this coach says. "There's no physical harm in losing by 60 to 0 or 120 to 0. What does it matter if the boys miss a tackle or a block here and there?"

While we wouldn't like to comment, inasmuch as we didn't see the game, the boys from old Chicago must have missed a city full of blocks and also quite a few tackles in those two games, and we still disagree with Mr. Shaughnessy's eccentric philosophy.

We can't see what physical harm there is in it if a team wins, say by 21 to 7.

Chicago, whose earlier history in the Big Ten reeks with athletic tradition, once Wisconsin's grand old foe, has adopted in recent years the philosophy that football is nothing more than an opportunity for a bunch of college boys to get a little exercise.

For that matter, neither is higher mathematics anything else, except that it provides mental rather than physical exercise.

Football is just as much a preparation for life as is solid geometry or advanced algebra. It teaches fight, intestinal fortitude, the value of group cooperation, precision.

It must be disheartening to a squad of young men to go on forever getting mopped up by every school, bigger or smaller, they meet on the gridiron each year. It must destroy their confidence in themselves, hurt their pride, cultivate habits of carelessness in their daily lives through the teaching that carelessness in missing a block or a tackle is unimportant.

While no one has a doubt that football can be overemphasized, Chicago seems to be proving that it can also be decisively under-emphasized.

A report that the Bata interests of Czechoslovakia (shoes) contemplate an American plant to employ an estimated 10,000 persons has aroused the indignation of organized shoe workers in this country. Opposition centers in the reported intention of Bata to import 29 Czech personnel to train the proposed American personnel in the producer's own methods. Representative Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts, alert to the economic sensitiveness of her constituency, says she will carry their protest to the United States commissioner of immigration.

Mrs. Rogers is justified in performing this messenger service, of course, but when she endorses the fear that prompts the protest, she betrays a rather startling unfamiliarity with the laws of her country, especially the laws which she had a hand in making. Surely the wage-hour act and the Wagner act will protect the workers of Massachusetts against injury to their standards of living by a mere handful of Czech artisans. Or were these laws passed just to while away otherwise idle hours in the senate and in the house?

Is Mrs. Rogers asking us to believe that admitting 29 European workers is too great a price to pay for the creation of some 10,000 American laws governing wages, hours, working conditions and unionization? If so, we suggest that she could find better uses for her undoubted talents.—Chicago Journal.

DALE HARRISON'S In Old New York

New York—Midnight Memoranda:

Incident in the life of a bar manager; a red faced, middle-aged World War veteran strode up to the Astor Bar, tapped politely on the bar for service and then, when the barkeep asked what his pleasure would be, ordered an old-fashioned cocktail, a double Scotch and a bottle of stout to be served simultaneously. When the liquor dynamite was placed before him the man solemnly downed them in order and without pause, quietly paid the check, lighted a huge cigar, blew a cloud of smoke into the air contentedly, and strode debonairly out, swinging a light cane expertly as he departed. Sam Varon, the bar manager, breathed a grateful sigh of relief.

At 59th Street and Fifth Avenue: a venerable hansom cab driver argues patiently with an inebriate, trying to talk him out of his determination to ride on the horse's back. . . . On the Eighth Floor of the RCA building, Radio City: Peter Van Steeden, the orchestra leader on the Fred Allen show, introduces his young son to the comedian, and the lad, shaking Allen's hand gravely, inquires: "What do you work at, Mr. Allen?" . . . On West 53rd Street, a caddy explains to Andre Kostelanetz why he no longer has his little dog sitting beside him on the driver's seat. "Some passengers objected, so I have to leave the dog home. It's a shame, because that dog is just crazy about riding in automobiles." So Kostelanetz and the caddy struck a deal for the dog's happiness, and now the little dog who is "crazy about riding in automobiles" belongs to one of Kostelanetz's dog-loving friends and rides every day—in a limousine.

Boy Makes Good:

This is North Carolina Week in the Boy-Makes-Good department, and that's the state where dance band maestros grow thicker than notes in a cantata. For instance, Kay Kyser.

Born in Rocky Mount, N. C., his folks named him James K. Keyser, and the K didn't stand for Kay but for Kern's. His career, on the income side, came from ten pins collected for his work as end man of a kid's minstrel show to $19,000 for a week's theatre engagement. Still thinks minstrels are great fun. Staged his first when he was nine, and kept it up through his sophomore year at the University of North Carolina. Folks figured he'd be a lawyer. They didn't know that dotted quarter-notes rather than dotted lines were more to his fancy.

Organized a six piece band in college. First engagement was at Country Club, Oxford, N. C., and he got $80 for it. Band could only play six numbers, which it did, over and over. There are more than 1,000 arrangements in his present library. College over, he piled his musicians into an uncertain automobile and started going places, finally getting an engagement at a Cleveland, O., summer resort.

Considers fishing, except when expertly done, a waste of time. Shudders at females who wear glaring red nail polish. Has modest wardrobe except for cravats whose number is legion. Buys them by the hundreds. If you happen to admire the tie he is wearing, likely as not he'll take it off and present it to you. His idol still is Will Rogers—because Rogers was always natural, Kay explains. Studied clarinet when a kid, but actually can't play any musical instrument. The moral: If you can't play, let the leader-man. Think not? Well, $19,000 a week isn't hay.

Manhattan Marquee:

The most publicized of all short stories published in recent years, "Address Unknown," has been purchased for Broadway dramatization by Sam Byrd, that industrious actor who loves to save the money he earns by performing so he can spend it as a producer. Byrd is so enthusiastic over "Address Unknown" that he may ring up the curtain on it even before he shows Broadway his other production, "John Henry," the play by Roark (Green Pastures) Bradford and composer Jacques Wolfe in which Paul Robeson will star. "Address Unknown," the short story, was written by Mrs. Kressman Taylor whose husband, Elliott Taylor, is a collaborator in the dramatization. The story, a study of psychological and spiritual disintegration as Mrs. Taylor views it in Nazi Germany, caused so much comment after its original publication in Story magazine that it later was published in book form.

Dramatization of short stories have never been particularly successful, but there is one conspicuous exception. A short story by Somerset Maugham, "Sadie Thompson" was dramatized and became one of the most famous plays of our times—"Rain."

The stock market staged one of its characteristically violent comebacks that day after more than a week of severe declines which culminated in the previous day's avalanche of selling. Scores of shares rallied $3 to $30. Leading bankers were inclined to regard the market's reaction as a healthy correction of an overextended position.

A Verse for Today

By Anne Campbell

YOUNG LOVE IS BRAVE

Young love is brave. It does not look ahead with apprehension to uncertain years. The future cannot be approached with dread. Love must be lived with valor, without tears. Young love is happy in the present day. And all its plans are hopeful. Even war Cannot fill every moment with dismay. Until it clamors at the nearest door.

Young love is just a shade less than divine. Flooding the world with its clear morning sun. Threading life's pattern with a gay design. Of light that mirrors naughtiness and joy. More than one heart grown ancient and unsure Leaps to a flame so beautiful and pure.

A Bystander In Washington

BY PRESTON GROVER

Washington—The second of President Roosevelt's agencies for handling relief and labor problems has been placed in the hands of an army man.

Elmer Andrews, administrator of the Wage-Hour division, just resigned and was replaced by Lt. Col. Philip B. Fleming of the army engineers.

The Works Projects Administration for some time has been managed by Col. F. C. Harrington, trim and vigorous successor to Harry Hopkins.

Just why Andrews went is a mystery to more than one. Of the several labor-aiding agencies created under the New Deal, the Wage-Hour administration has been the most popular, or at any rate, the least unpopular. Probably no one thing was the complete answer to the change. Underlings in the administration say it was an accumulation of troubles that were carried so often and so vociferously to the President that he felt a change necessary as a "safety valve."

Textile Trouble

One prickly commentator attributed the routing of Andrews to envious opposition from Madame Perkins, secretary of labor. We ran into a flat denial of that from one source, who said he was in a position to know that the two got on better than average.

Nevertheless, it is to be recalled that there was friction, or an appearance of friction, in the beginning as to whether Andrews should be financed by appropriations entirely apart from the labor department, or whether he should be just a wing under Madame Perkins. The House tried to make him independent but the Senate joined him to the labor department and there he has remained during the year or more the agency has been a going concern.

Chief criticism has arisen on three fronts—in the textile wage adjustments, in the question of whether upper-bracket wage and salary classes should be exempt, and, finally, in the definition of agricultural brackets, which are exempt.

The textile war probably was hottest. Southern mill operators went straight to the President with a protest against Andrews' failure to work out a wage differential that would preserve their advantage due to low-cost labor. The President expressed some preference for the principle of wage differentials but the south failed to get it from the textile committee, on which they were outvoted. A blanket 3½ cent an hour minimum rate on cotton textile workers, effective Oct. 24, reaches into the south just as it reaches New England. New England already is paying such wages in most sections, so the heaviest effect was felt in the south.

Fleming Contrasts

Andrews drew especial fire from some labor groups when he submitted recommendations for amendments to the Wage-Hour law to exempt from the hour limitations all employees drawing $250 or more a month. He had not volunteered the amendments, but made them only at the request of the House labor committee, which wanted to know his views. In turn, he angered one group of House members by opposing their effort to exempt all labor getting $150 or above. Labor groups said this would rob them of merit overtime pay.

Andrews, a slender, slightly stooping figure, is not the fiery type of executive most popular these last half-dozen years. He moved into the $10,000-a-year job from the $12,000-a-year post at the head of the New York state labor administration.

Colonel Fleming, now in the office of engineer on the upper Mississippi, is pictured in contrast as a bundle of energy, a joy to FDR.

ALDERMEN AND SALARIES

Editor Post-Crescent—If I had been the city's lawyer who argued the aldermen's salary case before the Judge, I would have said:

"Your Honor, in 1937 and in 1938 the taxpayers of Appleton paid to all the aldermen only $8,000.00 a year. They were supposed to give all the service that was needed. They all were satisfied with that salary because they tried very hard to be elected."

"Why should the taxpayers allow the City Treasurer to pay the aldermen $9,000.00 a year for that same kind of service? Is a law just that gives to the aldermen the right to get the amount of money that they are to be paid per year for their services without asking the voters as to the amount of salary they are to be paid? If it is a good law that the aldermen can set the amount of money to be paid to them yearly, they could set the amount at $900.00 or any other amount wanted instead of $900.00."

If that is a just law, then the voters of Wisconsin had better elect other senators and assemblymen in this state next year. When we elect senators and assemblymen, we will ask them to pass a law giving the taxpayers and voters the privilege to set the yearly salaries of our

NO RIDERS

Under the Capitol Dome

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—While the capital this week waits for a definite decision on a special session of the legislature, rival politicians on the special interim committee on taxation which is supposed to submit a revenue program to the legislators are quietly waging a keen fight for the chairmanship of that "little legislature."

Three leading members of the committee fancy themselves as chairman. They are Senator Harry Bolens, Democratic speaker of the upper house, Republican Democrat, and Senator E. F. Roethe, president pro tem of the senate, and Vernon W. Thomson, Republican assemblyman from Richland county and speaker of the house.

When the 18 man group was organized just before sine die adjournment of the regular session two weeks ago, Bolens assumed that he was chairman. To reporters and others he spoke for the committee. Bolens recently announced that he would not attend a meeting for at least six weeks. The basis of his claim to leadership, since the committee had not met and elected him, has not been explained.

REPUBLICAN CONTEST

Presumably because they feel it will give them added prestige to pilot the administration's troubled financial situation.

Our aldermen knew that if we voted to pay to them $250 per year that that amount was to be their salary. If those insurance men or real estate men or other business men cannot afford to give their time for the sum of money that the taxpayers have voted to pay them, they can resign. I believe there are enough able and honest men in this city who will take the job of aldermen at that salary.

How many of our present aldermen must spend 20 hours per month for service to the city? If so, they are getting $1.00 per hour for their time. My attorney and others say that they agree with me on many of my suggestions.

We have 6 wards in the city other than ward 1. The aldermen were satisfied to do all the work in their wards — they made no complaint as to their pay. We have 18 wards now in place of the 6 wards so that each alderman has now only one third as many voters to service; then, why should the taxpayers pay 50 per cent more for an alderman's services? Why was it necessary to have 18 aldermen in this city? Was it so that there would be more political jobs for men who did not have enough work to pass away their time? By having more wards in the city we get more supervisors elected from the city so that the taxpayers could pay more money in taxes on their homes. The more city officers we have the more money it takes to pay them.

I honestly believe that if there were only 6 good aldermen with a salary of $1,000 per year that these 6 men could and would give better service to the city. Six honest aldermen could and would conduct their meetings more quickly and more satisfactorily to the voters of this city. With 18 aldermen there can be and there is more arguing and wrangling at the council meetings. Mr. Voter, if you had attended more council meetings, you would know what I mean.

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

LYMPHOID HYPERTROPHY

Simple enlargement, thickening or hypertrophy of tonsil and adenoid body in childhood is called lymphoid hypertrophy. Sometimes such enlarged tonsils or adenoids may be infected and even become a source of serious focal infection, the as a general rule the condition in children is simple overgrowth of the soft lymphoid, adenoid or round-cell tissue composing the faucal tonsils and the pharyngeal tonsil (adenoid body).

I told here of the observation made by a New York health officer. Finding the first three or four in a group of school children he examined had enlarged tonsils he so recorded, but as he continued examining the children he found that all had enlarged tonsils, so he crossed the marks on the cards and marked them all "normal." The examination had been made at the end of a prolonged rainy period. Months later the doctor examined the same children again, after a period of fine weather. They all had small tonsils now, with one or two exceptions. Such a variation in the size of the tonsils may be explained, I believe, as depending on the intake of sunshine vitamin D; when the vitamin D intake is low the tonsils become enlarged; when the vitamin D intake is adequate the tonsils and adenoid body become smaller. Understand, please, this is merely my belief. I can't prove it, so you can't prove it. Isn't a stretch of sunny weather, if not grownsups, enjoy greater exposure of naked skin to the ultraviolet, which generates vitamin from ergosterol in the skin.

An old remedy for simple enlarged tonsils and adenoids, or rather for the morbid condition responsible for the lymphoid hypertrophy, is cod liver oil. Today probably most doctors would ascribe the benefits of cod liver oil in such cases to the vitamin D and the vitamin A in cod liver oil. Formerly the iodine in cod liver oil was considered at least partly responsible for its remedial value. In many instances of lymphoid hypertrophy (large tonsils and adenoids) iodine or iodides are beneficial. In any case it is advisable, in my opinion, to see that the child receives a suitable iodine ration. On request I will send instructions for taking an Iodine Ration — inclose a stamped envelope bearing your address.

In some of the standard textbooks on practice, pediatrics and therapeutics published twenty or thirty years ago the suggestion appears that "frequent sore throats and colds" cause chronic enlargement of tonsils and adenoid body; and also the suggestion that the child with enlarged tonsils and adenoids is susceptible to "frequent sore throats and colds." It is a fine old medical custom. Need I repeat that, in my opinion, when a doctor or medical author talks about "colds" he doesn't know what he is talking about and he doesn't want his readers to know either.

DISAGREEMENT FORECAST

Those who know Wisconsin legislators well will testify that had the administration wanted to insure another series of disagreements and factional wrangles it could have done no better than to choose the men who landed on the special committee. The membership of the committee was arbitrarily guaranteed that there will not be a unanimous report, rather that there will be three separate reports, and that the tax problem will remain unsolved after it completes its work.

Men who are acquainted with them can hardly imagine Andrew J. Biemiller of Milwaukee, a Socialist by conviction and record and the most radical of the Progressive leaders, agreeing on a question which inevitably embraces as much fundamental political philosophy as does tax legislation with a man like Harry Bolens, ultra conservative, or Roethe, or Maurice Coakley, who thinks with the Republican party which is customarily far distant from the Socialists in principles. Nor can an agreement between Phil Nelson, Progressive senate whip, with Frank Graess of Sturgeon Bay, aspirant to Republican leadership in the lower house, be readily visualized.

There is a good chance that the Democrats on the committee will show more independence in the months ahead than they exhibited during the regular session, when bait in the form of possible administration favors were constantly dangled before them. (In that connection, the acceptance of Bolens' claim to the chairmanship might be a strategic concession.) And the Progressives, who have all of their leaders on the committee, cannot consistently cooperate with the Republicans after they successfully stymied them on taxes all during the regular session.

Beauty and You

by PATRICIA LINDSAY

It appears that modern Greek women cherish the beauty secrets of the ancient Greek Belles, whose charms tempted the gods down to earth and, if we are to believe the legend, launched a thousand ships and burnt the topless towers of Ilium.

Mme. Demetrios Moretis, who is co-director of the Greek Pavilion at the World's fair said to me: "Ancient Greeks lived close to the earth and the earth withheld few of its secrets from them. From herbs and fruits they extracted wonderful beauty aids. These formulas have lived through the ages and today they vie in popularity with the products of Parisian cosmetic chemists.

"For instance, the Greek women have inherited hair and they preserve the color by using a laurel brew for dark hair and a camomile rinse for light hair, which they prepare themselves.

"Camomile flowers are gathered, spread on a paper and dried. They are then boiled in water, cooled, and the liquid is used as a rinse to keep highlights in blonde hair.

"And appropriately enough, the tree whose leaves crowned the head of the ancient victor — the laurel — produces a berry which is used to enhance the sheen of the dark brunette. The oil is pressed from the berry and rubbed into the scalp thoroughly before the hair is shampooed, and allowed to remain for a few hours. The loss is thus obtained and also a little color."

It is amazing how you can change the expression of your face by the manner in which you touch up your eyebrows. A straight thick end will add width to your face, an arched eyebrow makes a small eye look larger. A brow which turns up at the end gives the illusion of lift-

Justified in Continuing to Lead Spades

BY ELY CULBERTSON

Just yesterday I pointed out that partnership signals (such as "echoes" or other "come-on" signals) should be treated almost sacredly, and that only for the soundest sort of reason should they be ignored. By "sound reason" I mean a superior knowledge of the situation, based on a player's own holding. It sometimes happens that the partner who gives the signal cannot possibly realize the true state of affairs, and while his signal is logical, according to his information and belief, the other partner may be better qualified to gauge the situation. Today's hand illustrates one of those rare cases in which sheer logic dictates the ignoring of a signal.

The bidding:
East 1 spade
South 1 no trump West Pass
North Pass

I do not recommend South's one no trump overall. True, he has a very fair hand, but it was not good enough for a take out double, particularly considering his weakness in hearts, and he would certainly need a great deal of help from North to make a game of it. A minor suit, with a hand of this type it is best to pass and await developments. Perhaps the opponents will get up a bit high and afford the opportunity for a crushing penalty double.

However, the above is beside the point. What we are interested in, in this particular deal, is a matter of partnership cooperation. West opened the spade queen and East, not unnaturally, played the deuce. Declarer allowed the queen to hold. Now it was up to West to consider the situation and decide whether or not to follow East's command to stop playing spades. A moment's thought convinced him that, in this particular instance, disobedience was the best policy. It was perfect, obvious that East "placed" the declarer with either one or both of West's remaining spade honors, and did not want to be "led through." (As a matter of fact, East's signal was quite correct. On his own holding and on his natural interpretation of the bidding, he felt that South must have A-J of spades and that West's original lead probably had been from Q-X.) But West, with the original holding of Q J 10, knew that a continuation could not possibly be against partnership interests. With this knowledge, based on superior information, he laid down the spade jack and, when declarer still held up his ace, continued with the ten spot. From that point on the one no trump contract was in parlous state. The ace having been held up for the third time, West now shifted to the deuce of hearts. Dum, my ducking. East won with the queen and cleared his spade suit. Declarer laid down the club, knocking out East's ace, but after cashing the last spade East shifted to the diamond jack and South ended up by taking only one spade, one diamond, and two clubs.

If West, overlooking his own spade holding, had woodenly "followed orders" at the first trick and shifted to some other suit, declarer would have saved at least one trick, possibly two.

GOOD THINGS FOR THE HOME

Marie Schneider's Tested Recipes

HALLOWEEN COOKERY

The eeriness, horror—and fun—of Halloween have no age limit in their appeal. Youngsters and oldsters alike feel chills of fear and glee on this night when ghosts, goblins, and black cats prowling. So do have a party.

Set a bounteous table with a centerpiece of pumpkin, piled high with colorful autumn fruits and vegetables.

Halloween colors are orange and black. There are any number of appropriate foods to serve depending on the type of party. Here are a few suggestions I hope you will like.

Frost your favorite chocolate cake in the spirit of Halloween. It adds fun to the party and extra deliciousness to the dessert. Cover it with orange butter frosting and decorate the top with marshmallows, use orange ones, if available. Paint eyes, nose and mouth on one flat side of the marshmallows with a toothpick dipped in melted chocolate.

Gelatine Jack-O-Lanterns are very festive, as you'll find when you serve them. It's a wise owl that hoots on Halloween—and here he is in a tricky salad. Another delicacy well suited to Halloween is Jack-O-Lantern Yum-yums. Do try them.

Gelatine Jack-O-Lanterns

1 package orange flavored gelatine
1 pint hot water
6 peach halves
6 marshmallows
Currants

Dissolve gelatine in hot water. Fill 6 wide sherbet glasses about 1-3 full and chill. Press currants into the rounded sides of peaches to make eyes, nose and mouth of Jack-O-Lantern face. When gelatine in sherbet glasses is firm, place marshmallow in center of each glass and cover with peach half, placing face-side up. Pour remaining cold, syrupy gelatine over peaches and chill until firm.

Owl Salad

Peel and slice an orange. Moisten cream cheese with orange juice. For the body of the owl arrange sandwich fashion on a bed of endive two slices of orange with cream cheese spread between. Place half slices of orange on each side for wings. Another slice makes the head. Shape round eyes from cream cheese making the centers from pieces of prune. The beak and eyebrows also are cut from a prune. The feet are a little square of orange on a prune branch.

Jack-O-Lantern Yum-yums

3 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons water
1 square chocolate
1 teaspoon soda
2 cups cake flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1-3 cup butter or other shortening
2 cup sugar
2 egg whites, unbeaten
2-3 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine sugar, water and chocolate in saucepan and cook over low flame until thick and smooth, stirring constantly. Stir in side, cool slightly. Sift flour once before measuring, add salt and baking powder, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream well. Add egg whites, one at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Divide batter into two parts, one part, add chocolate mixture, stirring until blended. Put by tea-spoons into greased cup cake pans, alternately light and dark mixtures. Bake in moderate oven 375 degrees F. 25 minutes. Top with Chocolate Sundae Sauce. Garnish with sliced blanched almonds to make Jack-O-Lantern faces, use slice of orange peel for stem.

Chocolate Sundae Sauce

2 squares chocolate
Dash of salt
1 cup water
1 cup sugar

Add chocolate to water, bring to a boil, and cook 4 minutes, stirring constantly. Add sugar and salt, and boil 4 minutes longer, stirring constantly.

Wise Woman Won't Board Young Girl in Her Home

BY DOROTHY DIX

Dear Miss Dix—My husband wishes to bring his stenographer, a very pretty young girl of 19, who is married but not living with her husband, to live with us. He thinks that to give her board would be cheaper than to pay her more salary. We have been very happy. Do you think there would be any danger in this arrangement?

ALICE O.

Answer:

I certainly do. I think that any woman is lacking in what our Negro friends call "prob-ness" who lets any woman younger and prettier than she become an inmate of her house. And this goes even for parlor maids and sisters and cousins.

A husband may be blind in one eye and not see well with the other. He may be grumpy and hate everything that is pretty and young and gay. Of course, he may be absolutely trustworthy and halter-broken and will stand without being hitched. But, on the contrary, he may not, and there isn't any sense in taking chances. Nobody knows just how old and fat and settled a wife has become until she is brought into daily, cruel contrast with blooming and lissom flapperdom. And in the nature of things, a wife can't always be dressed up and looking her best, while the young girl has nothing to do but primp.

Also, there are times when even the most easy-going wife has to make unpleasant communications to husband and tell him of his faults, and it doesn't help matters along any or promote conjugal felicity when there is some ravishing young creature handy to sympathize with him and tell him how he isn't appreciated and is misunderstood.

So, lady, if you have a good husband keep him good by keeping temptation out of his way. It is true that he is associated with this girl all day at the office, but there is small danger in that, because in business hours a man's mind is set on making money and not on making love. He is chasing the nimble dollar and not a skirt. Besides, he is harassed and worried and doesn't feel sentimental.

But after dinner, when he is fed and comforted and relaxed and wants to be amused and diverted, it's a different story. Then he is likely to make love to any pretty young creature who is convenient, and that is why the wise wife doesn't keep any potential lady love around the house. "Safety First" is a good motto for wives.

Don't Marry Again.

Dear Dorothy Dix—A few years ago I married a dear little girl. We were very happy until she and my mother had a quarrel and I took my mother's part. This caused a separation between us. I still love my wife and I think she loves me, and I would like to have my home back, but there is another girl my mother would like me to marry. What would you advise me to do, marry this girl and try to make her happy, knowing that I still love my wife?

A MAN.

Answer:

What makes you think that you could make any woman happy by marrying her when you love another woman? If you could think over all the plans that malice could invent for bringing certain misery on a woman, you couldn't hit upon one that would be more absolutely certain to make her wretched and ruin her life. Just the fact of being married to a man doesn't make a woman happy. And the more she loves him the more heartbroken she will be if he doesn't care for her. Every domain of jealousy will torment her and her very soul will be torn with suspicions.

And don't imagine that you can deceive her into thinking you love her, or that you can keep up a pretense of affection you don't feel. There isn't a woman in the world so stupid that she can be taken in by make-believe sentiment, or who won't measure to the fraction of a degree the warmth of a kiss. The worst unkindness that a man can ever do a woman is to marry her when he doesn't love her. And this

My Neighbor Says—

If your calla lily does not bloom it may be because the soil in which it is planted is cold. Put pot into a bowl of hot water every morning. This raises soil to hothouse temperatures.

State Seeks Detailed Data on Births, Deaths

Madison.—(17)—The state board of health will know something more about members of future Wisconsin generations than the usual facts about their deaths and births.

New forms for reporting births will contain confidential information pertaining to legitimacy, malformations and conditions of pregnancy and labor and the complete address of the mother down to the street number.

Death certificates will record social security numbers, the age of the husband or wife if either is living and a certification by the physician of one of various listed causes to which death should be discharged statistically.

The new forms were worked out in cooperation with the federal census bureau and will be distributed to statistics divisions in all states.

Van Straten, Cavanaugh Will Address Teachers

Henry J. Van Straten, Outagamie superintendent of schools, and James F. Cavanaugh, Kaukauna superintendent of schools, will be the speakers at a dinner meeting of the Outagamie County Teachers association at 6:30 Wednesday evening at the Outagamie Rural Normal school, Kaukauna. Miss Elizabeth Runge, county school music supervisor, will give a solo and there will be musical numbers by students of the normal school.

After A Man's Heart

by JEAN RANDALL

Yesterday, Buff's parents came to Boulder to find out what Buff is up to. Buff confesses to her mother that she is "head over heels about Tim."

Chapter 14
A Father's Advice

N EITHER woman was surprised to have Lane arrive early with Tim, bewildered and a little angry, in tow. Lance triumphantly exhibited a notebook crammed with sketches. "Got 'em hanging around Corliss's office," he explained. "Wonderful place. Corking things. Eleanor, I think we'll stay on here a week or so. Too bad Buff hasn't room for us, but then the hotel's promised to show me some types that will fit right into my plans for the new series."

Buff was demure and quiet all through the meal. Lance's exuberance made any other attitude impossible, and it pleased her to see Tim thawing out minute by minute, under the genuine interest the older man displayed in his work.

Confronted by Buff's father, and feeling an apology due for his long stay at the ranch, Tim had tried to

SMART COLLAR

Stop right here... if you're looking for a frock that's practical, yet "on its toes" in fashion. For Pattern 4290, by Anne Adams, has both features. The broad waistband makes you willowy through the middle. Another style highlight is that bewitching shaped collar. As for the practical side of this pattern: with collar, sleeve tabs and girder bow in crisp, light contrast, you have a gay housefrock. Then the same pattern makes a smart street dress with long sleeves and all-one fabric, or with wool plaid for the skirt, collar and sleeve tabs and a bodice, say, of velvet.

Pattern 4290 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric and 3 yard contrast.

Send your order to Appleton Post-Crescent Pattern Department, 243 West 17th St., New York, N. Y. Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

Hint of Cooperation Needed When Orders are Disobeyed

BY ANGELO PATRI

Mary is ten years old, very good in school, but becoming a trial to her mother. "She does not obey without argument. When I tell her to wash a few dishes she must say, 'Why should I wash the dishes? I have to do my lessons. Katie never has to wash dishes,' and so on and so on, until I am tempted to slap her and send her to bed."

Intelligent little girls of ten years are beyond the stage where they enjoy obeying orders. They have reached the age of reflection and they feel power, and personal likes and dislikes, and pride of will stirring in them. It would be tragic if this were not so. It follows then that we change our attitude toward them. Instead of issuing orders and expecting them to obey at once because they cannot think and plan for themselves, we offer cooperation and companionship because they are thinking, reflective persons.

Instead of saying, "Mary, wash those dishes," we might say, "Would you like to do those dishes while I get the vegetables ready? Then we can go down the street and buy the mushrooms for the sauce. John said he would have them this afternoon." The hint of cooperation, of being "in it," works wonders.

It is time now to begin taking the child into partnership. Share home responsibilities and plans and problems, as far as is possible without overdoing it. Teach the child, for example, how to buy the vegetables for dinner, the groceries, and the few bits of clothing that are simple enough for beginners to buy.

Take the child along to the market and teach her how to buy what is wanted so as to get the best possible value for the money. Let the child go along to a woman close to your own age. Don't talk down, rather talk up. Tell her about the trouble you are having with the furnace, or the baby's diet, or ask if she has noticed that the quality of the towels you bought lately was better than usual. Teach her to use the telephone with ease and discretion and good manners. Make her your intimate friend, without destroying mutual reserve.

If little Mary is treated this way along about her tenth year she will be a delightful member of the family, and her father and mother will find something very precious in their relationships with her. If, however, they insist upon unthinking obedience, upon the helplessness of infancy instead of cultivating the budding initiative, little Mary will be a trial and without joy to herself or other people.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

THE HOME GARDENER

by EDWIN H. PERKINS

Occasionally trees and shrubs have overgrown to such an extent that transplanting them, at the usual time recommended for the species, causes the gardener to take too much of a chance. Sufficient roots must be saved so that their functions can go on. A good ball of earth is required to hold the roots together so that they may not dry out until the plant has an opportunity to reestablish itself. Then, again, there is probably nothing more important than to see that the soil is packed in closely all around the roots of a transplanted plant. It is, therefore, recommended that large specimens be transplanted only by the "frozen ball" method. This method consists of watering until the ground is thoroughly

CUDDLE TOYS

Sewn in a jiffy—they're just two pieces joined and stuffed (not counting wing, comb and tail)—these cuddle toys always please. The pup's trousers and kitty's skirt are just running stitch. Pattern 2324 contains a pattern of the toys; illustrations of stitches; materials required.

frozen, and then with pick and sharp spade cutting a perfect ball of frozen soil. This ball contains tap root and many of the feeding roots. Since the ground is frozen, there is little likelihood that the ball of soil will drop apart. The specimen, along with its frozen roots, is then moved to its new location and set in a hole previously dug. Dirt is carefully packed in around it, re-establishing a normal soil level. Water is poured into the loose soil so that it, too, may freeze into a solid mass.

Next spring, when the ground thaws, the specimen will invariably take on new life as though it had never been tampered with.

Windows may be washed easily and rapidly with a piece of chamois skin about 18 inches square. Use warm water, wring the chamois skin out lightly and wash the window. Then wring the chamois out of water until as dry as possible, and rub over the window. This takes off all the moisture and no lint is left, shining the windows with much less effort than if washed in the old way.

CASE RECORDS OF A PSYCHOLOGIST

By Dr. George W. Crane
Psychologist, Northwestern University

There is far too much "tomb-stone dusting" and "epitaph polishing" on the part of educators who graduate their students backwards into life, with the latter's eyes focused on the past instead of upon the present and future. Read President Robert Maynard Hutchins' views on this point.

CASE O-180: Hilda P., aged 27, is an alert high school principal.

"When you criticized our college professors so acridly in yesterday's Case Record," she smilingly challenged, "weren't you really a little too severe on them?"

"Were you trying to get them rolled so they'd waken from their absent-mindedness and get down to reality?"

"I have a feeling, Dr. Crane, that you can try to stir people up so they in gladiatorial contests, college life, and the consumption of live fish."

Dr. Hutchins believes the purpose of college training is to teach students resourcefulness. Instead of making parrots or apes out of them, he firmly believes they need to be taught how to glean essential grains of fact from the chaff of popular fancy and emotionalism.

"Democracy can survive economic collapse, external pressure and the pretty pictures painted by the dictators only if the citizens understand the nature and purpose of the state," he wisely points out.

Manufacturing College Parrots

"It will not suffice to have them feel very democratic, or get emotional about it all, or react habitually to such habitual stimuli as the flag, the national anthem or the Fourth of July. The citizen must know. Knowledge is the aim of higher learning."

And by knowledge, Dr. Hutchins obviously means not vain lipservice or parroting of conventional doctrines, but the assimilation and utilization of facts for attaining the more abundant life.

Too many current professors are what I term "tombstone dusters" and "epitaph polishers." They are intellectual archeologists, digging into archaic ruins largely to gloat over the ruins. Our students flipantly may think "So what?" for they graduate backwards into life, with their eyes turned on the past instead of upon the present and future.

Vital education should equip our students for the present and future. Mental journeys through antiquity are justifiable only if they contribute something of current value in our own generation.

Follow the rules below and send for my bulletin entitled "A HOUSE-CLEANING IN EDUCATION."

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing or printing costs when you seek personal advice or one of his psychological charts.)

Round Table Discussion of American War Viewpoint Is Feature of League Meeting

AGREED that neither the present arms embargo nor its repeal will draw the United States into the European war, the round table discussion on "America and the War" at the first membership program meeting of the League of Women Voters in the auditorium of Appleton Vocational school last night, resolved itself into a discussion of what the American viewpoint should be toward the war.

Donald Du Shane, associate professor of government, Dr. M. M. Bohrer, professor of economics, Dr. A. A. Trever, professor of history, and Dr. Richard O. Cummings, associate professor of history, were the speakers in the round table discussion.

Du Shane opened the meeting by pointing out that the American people were of one mind in that they want to stay out of war, and that the majority of people want to see England and France win the war but not to the point of sending soldiers over to Europe.

In discussing the arms embargo, Dr. Trever said that this country will go into the war, if it does at all, not because of the retaining or repeal of the embargo but for the reason that we want England and France to win the war badly enough to aid with man power. He also pointed out that there is something to be said for the belief that we may be less likely to get into war if we shorten the war in Europe by aiding England and France with materials and goods.

Humanitarian Aspect

From this point the discussion turned to the humanitarian aspect of selling war goods and munitions if the embargo on arms is lifted and the differences of opinion on the American viewpoint toward the outcome of the war.

Dr. Cummings brought up the subject of lethal weapons, gas and other offensive weapons of war that may be sold to foreign nations if the embargo is lifted. It was brought out that there is little difference in sending so-called lethal weapons to Europe under the lifted embargo and the sending of materials to make these weapons under the present embargo.

Mr. Du Shane pointed out the complexity in determining offensive weapons, using the example of England whose defense against bombing planes is the use of more bombing planes to destroy German bases in the defense of their country.

On this point Dr. Trever brought out the possibility that the better equipped England and France is with our planes, the less likely will be bombings in both England and Germany, since Germany would hesitate to bomb its enemies if it foresaw a retaliation.

"It is of supreme importance to us as Americans whether or not Hitler wins this war," Dr. Bohrer said in agreement with Dr. Trever's statement that we as a nation can't separate our domestic and foreign affairs.

Outcome Important

In a world where you have communism and fascism prevailing, we are not immunized against their agitations, he said. He discussed the subject from four angles, namely, the pressure of propaganda in this country, the existence of subversive organizations financed by these governments, the fact that in all society are dissatisfied elements which might be grown to large enough proportions to be dangerous to a democracy if they rallied round subversive schemes, and the fact that in America exists the maxim, "Nothing succeeds like success."

If England and France lose the war and go the way of former successful democracies in Europe we will be affected by this outcome, Dr. Bohrer explained, that this country will be affected economically in any case, since war brings a business boom followed by a depression when the war is over.

"It matters a good deal whether Hitler wins or not," he said. "Democracy will evaporate in time if Hitler and Stalin are successful in this war."

Dr. Cummings and Mr. Du Shane who spoke for the viewpoint that we as a nation should keep away from Europe and "mind our own business" seemed agreed that a Nazi and communist menace does not exist in our country, and that propaganda from these sources acts as its own antidote.

House Guests Entertained at Appleton Home

MR. and Mrs. T. O. Haugen, 634 W. Prospect avenue, had a number of house guests over the weekend, the group attending the Detroit Lions-Green Bay Packers football game Sunday at Green Bay. They included Miss Mary Jane Peters, Lake Forest, Ill.; Miss Jane Grinnell, Chicago; Holt Derrick, Green Bay; Tom Haugen, Madison; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haugen, Milwaukee. Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Arnesen, Chicago, are visiting with Mrs. A. B. Fischer, Conway hotel, Mrs. Fisher and her guests are spending today at Two Rivers.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Smith and son, Lindsay Eugene, Yankton, S. D., arrived yesterday to spend a 2-weeks vacation with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith, 920 E. Eldorado street, and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Manser, 116 E. Lawrence street. Mrs. Smith is the former Miss Loreta Wetengel. Mr. Smith is program director at radio station WYAX, Yankton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sackett and family, 120 E. Summer street, motored to Dubuque, Iowa, Sunday to visit with Mrs. Sackett's sister, Mrs. Joseph Ebbert.

Two dance contests, one for jitterbug enthusiasts and the other for devotees of sweet swing, were a feature of the entertainment at the dance given Saturday night at the Phi Alpha fraternity house. The musical jittersbug were Stanley Guntz, Kenosha, and Miss Betty Schoonmaker, Milwaukee, and Miss Betty Sweet swing winners, Larry Piette, Appleton, and Miss Jane Dunford, Appleton.

Haldemans Take High in Bridge Tournament

MR. and Mrs. H. H. Haldeman took first place honors in the American league and were also high for both leagues when they totaled 1723 match points at last night's session of the contract bridge tournament sponsored weekly at Elks hall by the Appleton Contract Bridge association.

Other American league winners were David Smith and Burton Manser, second with 152 match points, and Mark Catlin, Jr. and E. J. Van Vonderen, third with 151.

In the National league Mrs. Royall La Rose and H. A. De Bauteur were first, scoring 1703 match points. Mrs. Julia K. Singler and Mrs. E. J. Van Vonderen were second with 1531, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Brokaw, third with 1471.

FAMOUS SHAWN TROUPE COMING

Shawn and Dancers Appear at College Chapel on Nov. 13

Ted Shawn and his men dancers will return to Appleton Monday night, Nov. 13, when the Lawrence College Theater sponsors a showing of the troupe's latest creation, "Dance of the Ages."

The appearance in Appleton of Shawn and his company will be the fourth in the last six years. The troupe has gained in popularity each year, receiving an enthusiastic ovation at its showing during last winter.

The new dance symphony which Shawn and his men will perform in Appleton had its premier Oct. 12, 1938, at His Majesty's Theater in Montreal, Canada. Since then, the dancers have carried the production from coast to coast, playing in more than 125 cities. Critics have lauded the brilliant scheme of Shawn's new work and the quality of its execution.

Especially pleasing is the ensemble dancing; the solos of Shawn, Barton Mumaw, and Wilbur McCormack also came in for their share of praise from audiences and critics.

Margaret Keller to Be Wed in November at St. Joseph Church

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Miss Margaret Keller, daughter of Gustave Keller, 404 W. Eighth street, to John Bendt, Milwaukee. The ceremony will be performed at 10 o'clock the morning of Nov. 15 at St. Joseph's church. After attending Lawrence college where she became affiliated with Delta Gamma sorority, Miss Keller was graduated from St. Joseph's School of Nursing, Milwaukee. Later she was supervisor at St. Joseph's hospital.

Mrs. John Hollenback, 313 E. Brewster street, entertained at a silverware shower for Miss Keller last week. The evening was spent playing hearts, with prizes given to the bride-to-be and Mrs. Donald Alfieri, Mrs. Gustave J. Keller, 410 W. Eighth street, was hostess at a kitchen shower recently for Miss Keller.

Several pre-nuptial parties have been given for her at Milwaukee. After their marriage Miss Keller and her bridegroom will make their home at Port Washington.

Miss Ruby Last, 1209 S. Oneida street, whose marriage to Wilfred Kaufman, 221 N. Durkee street, will take place Nov. 2, was honored at two pre-nuptial parties recently. A group of her fellow employees at the Campbell's Dollar store entertained her at a personal shower at Miss Alice Wall's home, 207 W. College avenue, and her mother, Mrs. Beatrice Last, was hostess to another group of her friends at a miscellaneous shower, also given at Miss Wall's home.

Miss Lillian Rogers was hostess at an electrical shower last night at the Copper Kettle restaurant in honor of Miss Irene Rehbein whose marriage to Hugo Giese, Kaukauna, will take place in November. Eight guests were present and prizes at court whist were won by Miss Marie Blick, Miss Mary M. Schreier and Mrs. Helen Shackelford. A miniature umbrella held a shower of candy favors.

Mrs. Caroline Schuh, Brillant, entertained friends and relatives at a coin shower at her home on Thursday evening in honor of Miss Dorothy Bender and Raymond Ebert who were married this morning at Kason Holy Trinity church. Games of skat and schafkopf were enjoyed. Prizes were received by Chester Fiedler, Mrs. Rudolph Novak, Pearl Fiedler and Mrs. Adam Herwig. An out-of-town guest was Walter Baer of Menasha.

Past Matrons, Patrons to be Feted by Star

FIDELITY chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will observe Past Matrons and Past Patrons night with a smorgasbord supper and card party Wednesday night at the Masonic temple. Arrangements for the supper, which will begin at 6:30, are being made by a committee consisting of Mrs. Charles Reineck, Mrs. Karl Haugen, Mrs. George Wettengel, Mrs. E. F. Harris, Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. E. A. Detman, Mrs. W. O. Dehne, Mrs. William Madsen, Mrs. Charles Harger, Miss Mabel Younger and Miss Ilaebec Stern. A meeting of the organization will follow the supper, and then cards will be played. Mrs. Bert Goodrich and Mrs. Charles Rumpf have been appointed to take charge of the card games.

Fifty members of Catholic Daughters of America, Court Ave Maria, No. 1011, attended a pot-luck supper and social meeting Monday night at Catholic home. Prizes at contract bridge were won by Miss Katherine Tracy and Mrs. Cornelius Crowe. Auction by Miss Katherine Derby and Mrs. Eugene Walsh and at schafkopf by Miss Agnes Rossmoissel and Mrs. Rose Rossmoissel. Miss Eleanor Pagan and Mrs. Helen Randerson won special prizes.

Mrs. Herman Haak was elected president of the auxiliary to Sheet Metal Workers, local No. 131, at a meeting last night at Trades and Labor hall. Mrs. John Kippenhan was named vice president. Mrs. George Lenser, treasurer, and Mrs. Charles Fisher, secretary. The next meeting will be Nov. 27.

A get-together night for all Masons, wives and friends will be held Friday, Nov. 3, at the Masonic temple, according to plans made by the Masonic activities committee last supper at 6:30 will precede cards, Contract and auction bridge and schafkopf will be played.

Mrs. Rex Spencer, 8 Bellaire court, will be hostess to Rainbow Veterans auxiliary at a meeting at 7:30 Wednesday night at her home. Final plans will be made for an open card party. A social hour will follow the meeting.

A "ghost" to meet the guests at the door and a "witch" seated among Halloween decorations gave an eerie atmosphere to the gathering of women's auxiliary to National Federation of Post Office Clerks last night at the home of Mrs. Robert Boettcher, route 3, Appleton. Following a short business meeting bridge was played and prizes were won by Mr. Edward Pinner, Mrs. Frank Schrimpf and Mrs. Earl Goehler.

Bridge, Golf Prizes Issued At North Shore

WOMEN of North Shore Golf club gathered at the club Monday for their last ladies' day of the season, awarding the season's prizes for golf and bridge and electing Mrs. Leland Joannes, Green Bay, women's sports chairman for next year.

Mrs. John Strange, the former Miss Mary Alsted, won the championship trophy. Mrs. John Sensenbrenner was awarded the Class B championship trophy; Mrs. James Bergstrom, the July handicap trophy; and Mrs. C. B. Rich, Green Bay, the putting contest trophy.

Golf prizes were given to Mrs. R. G. Whale for winning the ladder tournament; to Miss Betty Buchanan for winning the ringer score contest; to Mrs. Rich, as runner-up in the championship tournament; and to Mrs. A. A. Chambers, for reducing her handicap most during the season.

The season's bridge prizes were won by Mrs. J. F. Hunt, first; Mrs. John McNaughton, second; and Mrs. D. K. Brown, third.

Mrs. Frank P. Young will be hostess to the Wednesday club tomorrow afternoon at her home on E. Kimball street. Mrs. Alden McGrew will present the program, discussing "Danish Ballads and Swedish Poetry."

While their husbands are busy rehearsing with Appleton MacDowell Male chorus on Monday nights, eight Appleton women get together to play bridge. Last night they met at the home of Mrs. M. S. Clough, 1521 N. Erb street, and prizes were won by Mrs. Elmer Rehbein and Mrs. A. H. Falk. Two new members were accepted into the group to replace two who have dropped out. They are Mrs. John Goodrich and Mrs. Wilmer Stach. Others in the club are Mrs. Maurice Lewis, Mrs. Armin Albrecht and Mrs. Karel Richmond. In two weeks the club will meet with Mrs. Falk, W. Commercial street.

Fortnightly club will meet Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Heber Pelker, 12 Brookway place. Mrs. E. L. Bolton will present the program, reviewing "The American Way," by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart.

Music and poetry whose theme is the sea will be presented at the meeting of the Wednesday Musicals club tomorrow afternoon at Mrs. Andrew Farnell's home, 1912 N. Appleton street. Mrs. Fred Leonard is chairman of the program.

Needlework Guild to Honor Leader of Green Bay Branch

MRS. W. B. GUEINZIUS, Green Bay, for 20 years president of the Green Bay branch of the Needlework Guild of America, will be guest of honor at a tea which Mrs. Thomas N. Barrows, president of the Appleton branch, will give Thursday afternoon at her home on S. Union street. Guests will be directors of the Appleton Guild and a few other women who are interested in the Guild's work. Problems of the organization will be discussed.

An open card party will be given by Ladies Auxiliary of East at 8 o'clock Wednesday night at Eagle hall. Schafkopf, bridge and dice will be played and the committee will consist of Mrs. Frank Huntz, chairman; Mrs. John Schmidt, Mrs. John Hancock, Mrs. Aaron Deeg and Mrs. Joseph Boelsen. There will be a short business meeting at 7:30.

Christian Mothers' society of St. Theresa church will sponsor the fifth of its series of card parties at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joseph Alfieri, 1105 N. Oneida street.

A party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Van Handel, route 3, Appleton, Saturday evening in celebration of their twentieth wedding anniversary. Dancing and cards provided the entertainment for 25 guests. Musical selections were given by Dorothy and Grace Plamann.

Relatives surprised Walter J. Rutten, Kaukauna, Sunday afternoon on the occasion of his birthday anniversary. Cards were played and prizes won by Mrs. Ernest Schampers and Miss Henrietta Fassbender at rummy. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schampers and daughter, Rosemary, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schampers and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Lemke and family, Miss Margaret Overesch, Miss Henrietta Fassbender, Lawrence Beckman, Elmer Fassbender and Henry Rutten.

A group of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Puls, Shiocton, Saturday night to help them celebrate their forty-second wedding anniversary. Music for dancing was provided by Sylvester Hanson, Jess and Marie Scott.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Achter, Mrs. Anna Achter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Warring, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Puls, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Egan, Milo Puls, Miss Laurena Puls, Mrs. Marion Schlitz, Bobby Schlitz, Miss Doris Mae Warring, Miss Margaret Egan, Rosaline Egan, John Egan, Wayne and George Kennedy, George Brooker, Mrs. Nick Spehr and children, Violet and Betty Lou, William Puls, Barney Swong, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Schwandt, all of Shiocton; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Emerich and children, Merl, Bobby, Royal, Harold and Audrey, Black Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Puls, Elington; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Puls, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Puls, Mrs. Meta Peteran and Jackie Otto, Appleton; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Puls and daughter, Betty Jane, Madison.

Mrs. John Ehke, who recently moved to 525 W. Fifth street, was surprised by her neighbors at a kitchen shower last night. Mrs. Ehke and Mrs. Manley E. Lee won prizes at bridge and Mrs. Frank Briske won the traveling prize. Others present were Mrs. Victor Schappek, Mrs. H. Karl Schuetter, Mrs. Ted O'Keefe, and Mrs. Sylvester Schernick and Mrs. A. A. Krabbe.

An open pillow case card party will be sponsored by Ladies Aid society of St. Joseph's church at 7:30 Thursday night at the parish hall. All card games will be played and a prize will be awarded the high scorer at each table. Officers will be in charge with Mrs. Charles Feuerstein, president, as chairman.

Mrs. Frank Cohen, Mrs. A. Fielkow and Mrs. Reuben Payne will be joint hostesses at a 1 o'clock luncheon and card party Wednesday afternoon at the social center of Moses Montefiore synagogue for the benefit of Ladies Aid society charitable work. Bridge and Mah Jong will be played during the afternoon.

A harvest supper and dance will be sponsored by Konomic lodge, Order of Odd Fellows, and Deborah Rebekah lodge at 6:30 Wednesday night at Odd Fellow hall. The Rebekahs will present a 1-act play.

Winners at the dessert bridge party given Saturday afternoon at Hamar union by pledges of Alpha Chi Omega sorority for actives of the sorority were Miss Christine, Pors, Marshfield, pledge president, and her big sister, Miss Kathryn Peterson, Appleton; and Miss Mary Louise Ward, Evanston, and her big sister, Miss Elaine Buesing, Appleton.

Deborah Rebekah lodge entertained at its weekly card party Monday afternoon, prizes at schafkopf going to Mrs. A. G. Koch and Mrs. Ed Draeger and at bridge, to Mrs. William Martin and Mrs. Oscar Bruss. Next Monday the lodge will sponsor the first of a series of six card parties. The parties will begin at 2:30 in the afternoon and are open to the public.

gray hair at my age?

Certainly Not, I can't afford it!

CANUTE WATER solves my problem

If you have gray hair, simply wet it with Canute Water and allow to dry. A few applications, (all in one day, if desired) completely re-colors it . . . similar to its former natural shade. Attention only once a month will keep it that way.

Curl your hair or get a permanent, if you wish. There's no interference. Neither will sunshine, salt-water or shampooing disturb the color. Your hair remains clean and natural to the touch and looks natural in any light.

No Skin Test Needed

Canute Water is pure, safe, colorless and crystal-clear. It has a remarkable record of 25 years without injury to a single person. It was also tested and proven perfectly harmless by a Noted Scientist in one of America's Greatest Universities.

No Other Product Can Make All These Claims

Is it any wonder that we sell more Canute Water than all other hair coloring preparations combined?

Former Appleton Girl Is Betrothed

The engagement of Miss Elsie Kathryn Kull to Russell C. Kremer, announced last week in Madison, is of interest here because Miss Kull is a former Appleton resident and the granddaughter of the late Judge and Mrs. John Bottensek, whose home on E. College avenue is now Lawrence college's Hamar union.

Elsie's mother, the former, Elsie Bottensek, died when her daughter was just 10 days old, and Elsie therefore lived with her maternal grandparents until she was seven or eight years old. Her father, George F. Kull, 1526 Vilas avenue, Madison, now secretary of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association, was formerly city editor of the Appleton Post. He left Appleton to become secretary of the Wisconsin Loyalty league, with headquarters at Milwaukee, during the World War.

Miss Kull attended the University of Wisconsin, where she became a member of Delta Gamma sorority, and later was graduated from the Katherine Gibbs schools of New York City. Among her intimate friends in Appleton were Mrs. George Back, the former Suzanne Jennings, Mrs. Allison Krueger, the former Helen Van Nortwick, and Mrs. Douglas V. Johnson, the former Helen Jeanne Ingold.

Mr. Kremer, her fiance, is a graduate of the University of Illinois and the Kent Law school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Kremer, Chicago, and a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

Winners at the dessert bridge party given Saturday afternoon at Hamar union by pledges of Alpha Chi Omega sorority for actives of the sorority were Miss Christine, Pors, Marshfield, pledge president, and her big sister, Miss Kathryn Peterson, Appleton; and Miss Mary Louise Ward, Evanston, and her big sister, Miss Elaine Buesing, Appleton.

APPLETON High school graders faced a dismal prospect as they drilled last evening for Saturday's Fox River Valley conference game here. The trouble is that the Terrors will meet up with Green Bay East and the locals are supposed to win and give punch to the high school's homecoming celebration.

But beating East is something Valley coaches and graders talk about only in their more optimistic moments. The folks at Manitowish talked about it for a couple weeks but it didn't take long to convince them last Saturday night that East still rules the roost.

There has been a lot of talk about Ken Allard and his passes on the East squad, but don't forget one Al Manchessi who can run with the best rabbits that hop across Whiting field by the light of the harvest moon. He is, without doubt, the fastest ball carrier that the conference has had in years. And he also is one of the best pass receivers. With Allard pitching they make a combination that is hard to beat.

Will Hold For A Time
Appleton came out of Saturday's contest with little more than the usual bumps and bruises. Defensively the squad played its best game of ball and perhaps it will hold East for a time. Offensively, however, the Terrors haven't enough to threaten unless Brasch suddenly breaks away. He's the only member of the backfield who shows anything resembling ability.

Conference statistics reveal that East and West are at the top of the heap—as usual. East has the most potent offense with 91 points while West has the best defense with 14 points scored against it. West rates second on offense.

JOLTING a 233 game and 594 series, W. Konrad captured individual honors during American division matches in the Knights of Columbus league at Elks alleys last night. Top team totals were registered by Rechner Cleaners with a 951 game and Schmidt Clothiers with a 2,565 series.

Zoric Cleaners retained the circuit lead despite a 2-game loss to Fountain Lumber. E. Klingert paced the winners with a 547 series and 188 game while G. Schomisch had 202 and 508 for the losers, J. Pleier adding a 205.

People's Laundry won the odd game from Wisconsin Telephone company as M. Unmuth kegled 204 and 540. B. Bieseman mainstayed the losers with a 210 game and 533 series.

Yale Fears Wolves But Not Too Much, Ducky Pond Reveals

New Haven, Conn. (AP)—Sure admits Ducky Pond, Yale's head football coach, "We fear Michigan," but the Elks' next opponent, "but only a little bit."

Unlike a chap who is attempting to drown a sorrow that had learned to swim, and minus any whistling to bolster spirits, the Yale mentor is quite confident of the ability of his eleven to give the powerful point-a-minute Wolverines a "splendid tough battle" in Ann Arbor come Saturday.

Michigan, unbeaten and impressive in triumphs over Michigan State (26-13), Iowa (27-7) and Chicago (26-0), is going to find a surprisingly strong Yale team against it, said Pond today.

"Yale will do all right," stated Ducky. "Last week's 20-15 triumph over Army has helped a great deal, plus the memory of last year's contest, when a favored Michigan outfit had all it could do to wiggle out a narrow margin win. We may not win, but the Yale team will be in there every second."

The Blue squad began concentrating on the intersectional clash today with the added encouragement that Jim Dorn, regular guard, has recovered from an ankle injury and would be ready to face Michigan.

Here are two reasons why Appleton High school football team's defensive play is good. The boys are, left to right, Ralph Junge, playing a tackle position, and Henry Kozietzke, playing at guard. Junge started at guard this year but his good work and his build soon promoted him to tackle. Junge is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Junge, route 3, and Kozietzke the son of Mrs. M. Kozietzke, 506 E. Wisconsin avenue. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Vikes Gloomy Over Game With Carroll

Monmouth last week for he felt they could have done better. And he was further irritated over the reports that Carroll has a tough ball team and that it will be a heavy favorite.

The fact that several Vikings are ailing and won't be available until late in the week was further cause for gloom. Among them are the three most consistent backs, Buesing, Nencki and Everett. The latter is definitely lost to the squad for Saturday because of a knee injury.

Carroll's strength was reported by Assistant Coach Ade Dillon who said that the Pioneers never should have dropped the game at Lake Forest and that they are several touchdowns better than the Foresters. He had favorable reports on almost every Pioneer who wore a uniform and especially on Ken Binder, Carroll's blocker and quarterback, a veteran campaigner and a coach's football player.

State Sport Shorts

BY DAVE ROWE
MADISON (AP)—Vince Jones, all-conference tackle from Lawrence college, is still growing about this one. In the Coe game Jones was inserted after the contest was a quarter old. The opposing team stopped in the middle of its huddle and gave the big tackle a round of applause. Then the quarterback shouted: "Vince, we're going right over the top of you for 15 yards." Then they did it!

Fencing is the newest recreation at Northern college. Donald Root, a freshman from Neenah, started the sport. Root was at one time assistant fencing instructor at Bay View High school, in Milwaukee.

Marquette University coaches are wondering about picking an honorary captain. The honor twice turned into a jinx. In the first two games Ray Butler, tackle, led the team in its first game against Wisconsin and was carried off the field twice with muscle cramps. Right guard Dave Braden, leader in the Kansas State contest, suffered a badly injured foot.

The Thorp, Wis., All-Stars, 1939 North West A.A.U. basketball champions, open their season against the Oshkosh All-Stars at Omro, Nov. 11. Among the players on the 1939-40 roster are Bob Weigand, former Wisconsin guard, now coach at Bloomer, and Charlie "Bump" Jones, center, Spooner High school coach.

In a football game between Darlington and Dodgeville, an argument developed between officials and the coach of the Dodgeville school. The Dodgeville coach ordered his team to leave the field but neglected to call time out. Jim Knoutz, Darlington fullback, lined his team up and strolled nonchalantly for a touchdown. After a 15 minute delay, however, the Dodgeville eleven came back on the field and won the game, 7-6.

The longest touchdown run in Wisconsin grid circles this year was staged in the Baraboo-Richland Center game. Jim Weiske, Baraboo fullback, returned a kickoff 106 yards for his team's only score. Richland center won the game 19-7.

In the Lawrence - Carleton game this year the smallest man in the Midwest conference tossed a pass and the largest man intercepted it and ran 46 yards for a touchdown. Bob Raiter, 145 pound Carleton back, heaved the ball. Vince Jones, 290 pound Lawrence tackle, caught it.

Beloit college's athletic parking field has been enlarged to accommodate 2,000 additional automobiles. Owners of adjoining property donated a 15-acre parking tract.

Marquette Given Blocking Drill

Looked Shabby Against S.M.U.; Failed to Make a Down

Milwaukee (AP)—Paddy Driscoll and his football coaching aides at Marquette were satisfied today they had accomplished some good in giving the Golden Avalanche squad a stiff dose of blocking technique.

Against Southern Methodist, the Hilltoppers failed to register a first down, and Driscoll wanted to repetition in the homecoming game here next Saturday with the University of Arizona.

In slow motion and in a regulation scrimmage yesterday, Driscoll worked on blocking with "live bait" and some mistakes made against S. M. U. were cleared up.

Johnny Goodyear, promising sophomore back who has not scrimmaged in three weeks, may see action Saturday, it was indicated by yesterday's workout.

Bob Kemnitz, guard who lost considerable weight at Dallas, and Gil Thomsen, right end who has an injured leg, were absentees.

LEE FEAVAL jolted a 236 game and Earl Stach thundered a 603 series for high individual marks during Builders league matches at Arcade alleys last night. Team honors went to Al Utschig and Sons with topheavy marks of 1,042 and 3,055.

Schuessler Weatherstrips went into the league lead with a 2-game win over Winter and Son. Eddie Starnard paced the winners with a 214 game and 569 series. Tops for the losers was Walt Winter with a 468 series and August Winter with a 199 single.

Gmeiner and Gearson keggers were dumped out of first place as they lost two games to Al Utschig and Sons. E. Stach whipped 226 and his big series for the winners while C. Retza snowed 192 and 539 for the losers.

Brettschneider's grand slammed H. C. Schultz and Sons as C. Schreder pumped 507. J. Schultz hit 201 and H. Schultz had 542 for the losing quint.

Neons Win Three
F. Plette and Sons downed H. Thiel in two games as C. Smarzski tripled 507. Tops for the losers was Suelflow with a 463 count.

Appleton Neon Sign company made it three straight over Heinrich Sheet Metal as R. Zwerg scored 464. Tops for the losers was Roy Johnson with a 186 game and 498 series.

Two games were credited to Master Painters in a match with Wm. Nehls and Son. L. Feavel topped the winners with his big game and a 503 series while Bud Wegner piled up a 592 series on games of 219 and 206 and Barney Meyer thumped 201 for the losers.

Schabo and Son took two games from F. Hoepfner Sons as H. Peterson totaled 477. L. Sievers tripled 509 and A. Hoepfner singled 198 for the losing team.

Hoffman Construction company won the odd game from Standard Manufacturing company as G. Hoffman hit 531. H. Schulze counted 213 and 537 for the losers.

Bears Refuse $15,000 Offer for Sid Luckman

Chicago (AP)—To say that Sid Luckman, former Columbia basketball ace, has made good in pro football is the rankest sort of understatement.

Luckman, one of the highest paid freshman stars in the National League, isn't among the leaders in the statistical charts. But his employer, George Hales of the Chicago Bears, has turned down a $15,000 offer for him.

While the Bears were in the east last weekend Brooklyn offered that amount for Luckman. But Hales said the passing star was with his club for good.

"Luckman is not for sale or trade at any price," Hales said. "Take a tip from me and watch him go from now on."

30 Years Ago Chicago Was Too Tough; Look at It Now

BY TOM SILER
CHICAGO (AP)—A lot can happen in 30 years, and has in the football situation at the University of Chicago.

Just 30 years ago tomorrow, the Daily Maroon, student newspaper, suggested that Chicago, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Illinois were too strong in football for another group of teams in their organization.

"It seems to us," the paper said, "that a rearrangement would work for the betterment of athletic conditions." It added that a league composed of the above five

Moeller Named Badger Captain

Watertown End to Lead Squad Against Iowa On Dad's Day

MADISON—(AP)—Ralph Moeller, of Watertown, senior left end, was named captain of the Wisconsin football squad for its Dad's day game against Iowa here Saturday. It was the second time this year that he won the honor.

Yesterday's drill was a light one with nine regulars being excused from the workout. Backs, Claude York and George Peterson, and Moeller, Al Lorenz, Bob Ekl, Elmer Tornow, Bob Holloway, Dick Embick and Jack Murray, linemen, were given a day of rest by Coach Harry Stuhldreher.

The reserves, however, went through offensive scrimmage against freshmen. The ball carrying quartet was composed of Tom Farris, quarterback; Bob Cone and Harold Rooney, halfbacks and Hal Lubnow, fullback.

Cone Passes Well

Cone and Lubnow did most of the ball toting and two touchdowns were scored. Cone crossed the line on both instances, once on a 13 yard run and again from the 20. Cone's passing was clicking and numerous long gains were made via the air.

Bob Holloway was in the infirmary with a leg infection but was expected to be in uniform tonight. Bob Willding, reserve sophomore halfback, who saw much action against Northwestern, will not be ready for the Hawkeye contest but may be in condition to make the trip to Illinois in two weeks. He suffered a dislocated shoulder in Saturday's game.

Ray Peterson will continue to be used exclusively as a left halfback, Stuhldreher announced. He will not be used as alternate fullback as previously planned.

Hard scrimmages were on schedule for today, tomorrow and possibly Thursday. The first string eleven was slated to work today.

SHALL THE NIPGON RIVER BE SACRIFICED?

By Kenneth A. Reid

VERY trout fisherman has heard of the Nipigon River which carries its waters from the lake of that name southward over Virgin Falls, through great pools and rapids some sixty miles to the north shore of Lake Superior.

For more than a half a century it has been acknowledged the premier speckled trout river of the world and people from all parts of the United States and Europe have joined Canadians in enjoyment of its outstanding fishing. In 1916 it yielded the world's record brook trout on red and line, one of 141 pounds and no other river has produced so many brook trout above five pounds.

Until 1919 the river was practically as God made it, then it became a victim of power engineers who see in a running stream only so many kilowatt hours, with construction of two dams and generating stations by the Ontario Hydro Power Commission, a department of the provincial government.

As usual in such cases the trout fishing suffered. Pike increased in the deadwaters behind the dams and the normal flow of the river was upset by artificial storage and release of waters. Year by year the fishing fell off and many of the Nipigon's devotees went farther north to the unspoiled tributaries of Nipigon Lake or other more remote waters.

But in spite of its sacrifice to the power god, Hydro, the Nipigon was still an outstanding trout river. Then came the second attack of selfish, short-sighted commercialism which traditionally ignores the existing natural values of water for public recreation and fishing until they are destroyed, unless forced to give them consideration by an aroused public opinion.

The new threat which has already spread its pall of destruction on the river, comes from the pulpwood industry. For some years snrce pulpwood from the Nipigon river and tributary streams was floated down the lower reaches of the Nipigon with comparatively little damage or protest as the best fishing was above the driving operations.

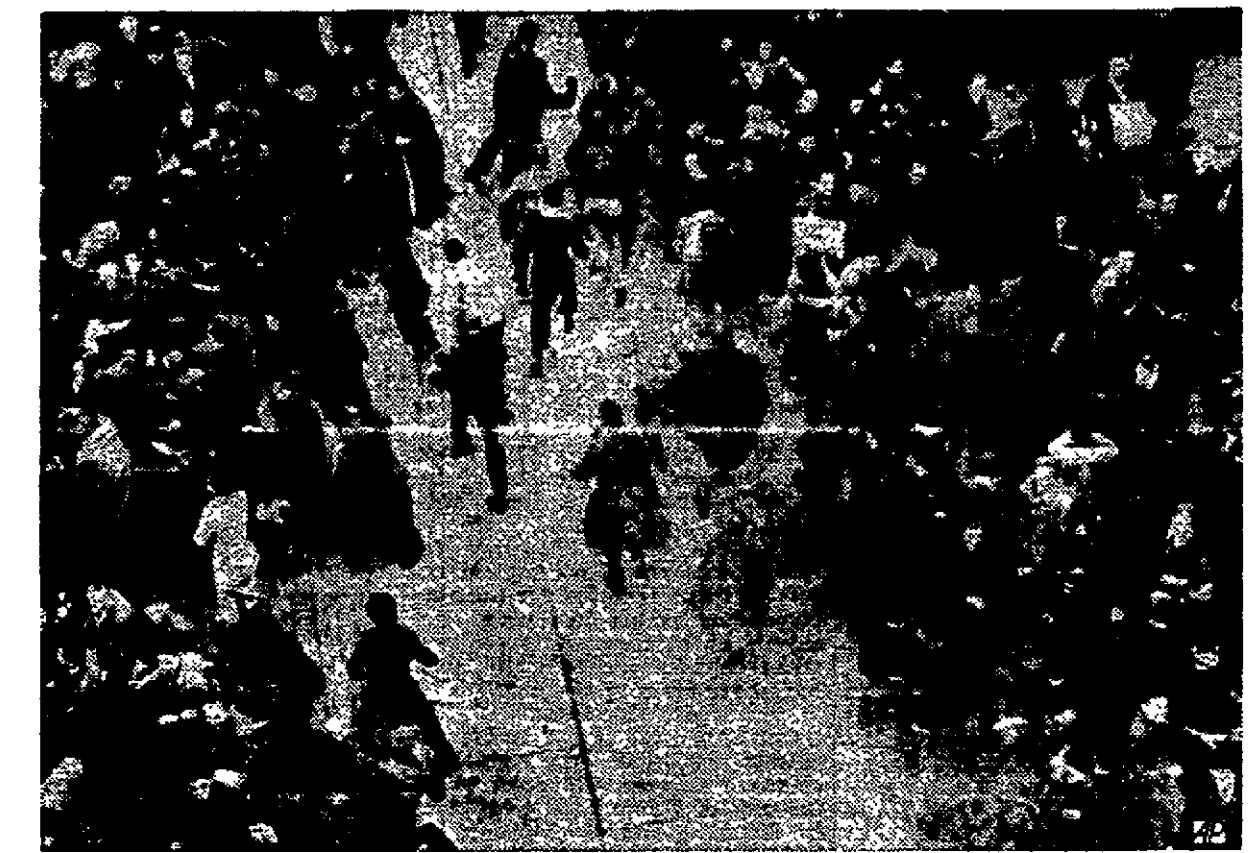

Bark Is Hazard

During the last few years new pulpwood operations on the watershed of Lake Nipigon, the source of the Nipigon river, have started driving their logs the entire length of the river into Lake Superior.

In addition to the actual physical damage to the fish, filling the river with logs and the interference with their natural reproduction, the immense amount of decaying bark from this pulpwood littering the bottom of the stream constitutes a serious threat to the very existence of the fundamental food organisms of the river and increases the acidity of the water.

The Ontario Federation of Anglers has protested this abuse of the Nipigon river as a short-time commercial expedient which would destroy permanent and much greater public values. It maintains that the pulpwood can either be shipped by rail or by a canal or flume by passing the prime fishing waters on the upper river, and that the additional cost of such transportation would be amply justified in the public interest.

It suggests further in the event of failure of these alternate methods that log driving be prohibited during the spawning season; storage of logs be prohibited in the Nipigon river proper and that logs be barked before floating down the river. They have issued a public appeal to help save what remains of the world's premier trout river. They are not opposing pulpwood operations, only the present method of transporting that pulpwood to Lake Superior. Surely the request is a reasonable one and the cause righteous. The Izak Walton League sincerely hopes that the Ontario government will see the economic soundness of protecting the Nipigon even to the extent of a partial subsidy to help bear the increased cost of transporting the pulpwood by one of the proposed methods.

DESPITE THE FACT there were several scores of a common figure—13 to 0, for instance—the folks who guess football scores for the sports department's contest didn't do so well for another week. And aside from that there are indications that some of the folks are doing a lot of plain and fancy guessing. There was no other answer for several pickings Chicago over Michigan and for some of the local "underdog" teams being picked over much stronger squads.

George Swamp, 326 E. Walter avenue, who used to play for Appleton high, gets the ticket to the Appleton-East game Saturday. He picked the Northwestern-Wisconsin score correctly and missed by a point on Central over North and Purdue over Michigan State. His close scores broke a tie.

Other winners:

Kaukauna—Earl O'Connor, route 3, who selected West over Oshkosh, 21-7, and the Beloit-Ripon scoreless tie and missed on Indiana over Illinois by a point.

Kimberly—Francis Van Humbergen, who picked Purdue over Michigan State by 20-7 and missed on Berlin over St. John by a point.

New London—Leon Bodoh, 319 Washington street, who picked Central over North, 7-0, and Indiana over Illinois, 7-6.

Menasha—Cash Talarezyk, 427 Third street, who picked Fond du Lac over Appleton, 13 to 0, and missed three scores by a point and thereby broke a tie. The scores were Central over North, Lake Forest over Carroll, and Purdue over Michigan State. The close ones enabled him to nose out several other Menashans.

Neenah—Bill Lawson, 248 Fifth street, who picked Central over North and Menasha over West DePere.

Little Chute—Don Peeters and Beany Bongers. Both picked one score correctly, missed one by a point and had 15 winning teams so that we couldn't break the tie. Peeters picked Fondy over Appleton, 13-0, and missed by a point on North over Central. Bongers picked Northwestern over Wisconsin and missed Purdue over Michigan State by a point.

Clintonville—Don Meyer, 99 E. Madison street, who picked Northwestern over Wisconsin.

Several of the schools are closing their football schedules or won't have any more game games and that offers a problem. Where the cities or villages are near Appleton we'll have to include the ballots among the Appleton guesses. Where they are too far away, we'll include them in the final compilation for the Wisconsin tickets but we probably can't do anything about offering a ticket to the next home game if there isn't one.

Also, only one ballot from a customer. One guy slipped in three on us this week.

Here's a Way to Break Those Football Ties

Minneapolis—(AP)—They've found a way out of the troublesome situation of the football games out at Langdon, N. D.

There Starkweather and Pembina teams, playing for the regional six-man football title, wound up in a 12-12 tie. They agreed to allow each team four overtime plays, and Starkweather won, 14 yards to 11.

At Pine City, Minn., they are about to adopt some such plan. In the last four games, Pine City's opponents haven't scored a point. The trouble is—neither has Pine City.

Big Ten Has Won 7, Lost 7, Tied 2 in Non-League Play

Michigan, Purdue Should Carry Loop Over Hump Saturday

CHICAGO—(AP)—Big Ten football teams played 16 games against non-conference foes in the first month of the season, winning seven, losing seven and tying two.

The league's efforts to climb above the 500 mark in the won-lost column this week is in the highly capable hands of the Michigan, Ohio State and Purdue elevens. Only teams meeting outside rivals Saturday, Purdue goes west to play Santa Clara while Michigan and Ohio State, twin leaders within the loop, entertain Yale and Cornell, respectively.

Purdue pulled the conference won-lost rating to an even 500 last week with a victory over Michigan State while eight other teams were in conference battles. Iowa was idle.

Michigan and Purdue doubtless will rate the favorites' role in their intersectional tests, while the Buckeyes should be no less than an even choice to clip Cornell, undefeated and untied, as are the Wolves and Bucks.

Purdue Is Better

Bernie Bierman, Minnesota coach, says Ohio State has a fine team but not as good as Purdue, which held the Gophers to a 13-13 tie in the Boilermakers' only league game this far.

... Tom Harmon apparently has a good chance to score more points in the Big Ten this season than Jim Langhurst of Ohio State did last year in leading the conference. ... Fritz Crisler, Michigan coach, can take bows at least for doing all he could to keep the score down against Chicago. ... but his high spirited second and third teams simply would not cooperate.

Big Jim Walker, Iowa sophomore tackle, may miss the Wisconsin game Saturday because of a knee injury. ... The South Bend, Ind., Negro has long had a bad knee and re-injured it in the Michigan game a week ago. ... Harry Stuhldreher is giving Tom Farris a try at the Wisconsin quarterback spot. ... Northwestern, which plays Rob Zuercher's Illinois crew Saturday, must do well to remember that the Illini went to Evanston two years ago and slanted the Wildcats, 6-0, to knock them out of a share of the grid life. ... Coach Francis Schmidt is almost as afraid of overconfidence among his squad as he is of Cornell's eleven.

Bo McMillan's Hoofers Took the Day off Yesterday

after watching movies of their game with Illinois. ... Purdue's Squad leaves late this afternoon for the west coast and the Santa Clara test. ... Unofficial sources around Northwestern report that pictures of the Wildcat-Badger game showed Jack Ryan blocked rather than clipped a Wisconsin player in their game Saturday. ... Officials ruled Ryan had shoved his victim, announcing Bill de Corrao's 55-yard touchdown run. The Wildcat coaches made no protest of any nature since they won the game anyway. ... Northwestern's Ollie Hohnstein and Don Guritz, halfback and guard, are out with injuries now and may not play against Illinois.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Little Mercer college of Macon, Ga., has one consolation, at least—it's going to be beaten next Saturday, barring grid-dom's greatest upset, by the best team in the nation, the Volunteers of Tennessee.

By a margin as wide as from here to Mars, the Vols stand acclaimed today as the finest college football crew in the land. In the second weekly Associated Press national ranking poll, the talented southern juggernaut received 93 first place votes out of a possible 131 to roll up a total of 1,203 points.

Seldom, if ever, has one team so dominated the picture. And not only did the nation's press box experts pile their plaques on the team, but no less a personage than Dr. John Bain (Jock) Sutherland, noted metropolitan football writers yesterday he considered the team "one of the most perfect I have ever seen." He added he didn't think any on the country could score on Major Bob Neyland's crew, let alone beat them!

Maybe Irish Could Win

If there is any team that could beat the Vols, in the opinion of the writers, it would be Notre Dame. The Ramblin' Irish got 13 votes for first place and a total of 923 points for second place in the weekly ratings.

Standings of the teams (points) figured on a basis of 10-9-8-7-6-5-

Report Bill Kern On His Way Out

Rumor Persists He'll Leave Carnegie Tech At End of Year

Pittsburgh—(AP)—The fast-moving Pittsburgh collegiate athletic situation gained momentum today amid a flood of rumors that Bill Kern would leave his football coaching job at Carnegie Tech.

The only holdover at the city's three major colleges, Kern would neither confirm nor deny the reports. He was "satisfied" at Carnegie, said the coach, but "naturally I would be interested in improving myself."

The rumors, blamed a whirlwind weekend in which two of the city's three big teams were beaten for the first time this year. Little Duquesne upset Pitt's Panthers while Carnegie dropped a 6-0 decision to the Vilets of New York University.

Big blond Kern is in his third year on the Tartan campus and has a one-year contract. At Pitt, Charley Bowser is in his freshman career, as is Aldo (Buff) Donelli at Duquesne.

Max Hannum, Carnegie publicity director of athletics and basketball coach, said the school was very well satisfied with Kern's work, adding he could "have it in position here as long as he wants it."

Texas Has One Jackrabbit Who Isn't Considered a Pest

BY OLEN W. CLEMENTS

USTIN, TEXAS—(AP)—In these parts, jackrabbits once were considered pests.

That was before Jackrabbit Crain put the phit-t-t back in football in this pass made Southwest conference.

It was four Saturdays ago that the 165 pound University of Texas sophomore galloped out on the football prairies. He was a tow-headed kid from Nocona, Tex., who scored cowboy boots to make his way through school.

They handed him the ball in his first game against Florida and phit-t-t—a touchdown. The 5 foot, 7 inch youngster streaked 42 yards. He stopped on the way back and kicked a goal.

Victory hungry alumni went into spasms of hysteria.

Up north, against Wisconsin, Crain buzzed 37 yards for a touchdown. People were amazed. Here, was a Texas football player who actually carried the ball instead of throwing it all over the lot.

He went to Dallas, Oklahoma's powerful Sooners had been pushing Texas around all afternoon and were leading 17 to 0.

Suddenly swi-t-h—there went Crain for 69 yards and a touchdown. Two minutes later he burned up the gridiron again, this time for 71 yards and a touchdown.

Oklahoma won but Jack Crain had a big day.

Last Saturday, Arkansas, a team that walloped Texas 42 to 0 a year ago, came to town for a killing.

Crain grabbed the ball on his own seven yard line. He ran forward, backward, sideways and started one to lateral. Those clever rabbit hunters from Arkansas trapped him on their own seven-yard line. The run gained 88 yards. He scored quickly, booted the goal and waited until the game's 59th minute for his next chance.

It came on his own 39-yard line. He tucked the ball under his arm and made a bee-line for the Arkansas goal. He got there. Crain kicked goal and Texas won 14 to 13.

Saturday Crain and his mates face the floundering giants of the conference, Rice, which has beaten Texas five straight.

Old grads call him cowboy. Co-ed cuties call him angel—he can almost fly.

MARQUETTE'S STAR CENTER

That famous one-armed paper-hanger has nothing at all on Ray Apolskis, brilliant Marquette university junior center, who will line up with the Golden Avalanche as usual in the homecoming game with Arizona at the Hilltop stadium in Milwaukee on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 28.

The "Lithuanian Menace" was on the loose in Marquette's last three games with Kansas State, Michigan State and Southern Methodist without the benefit of one hand, but he acquitted himself better than well in those battles and further established himself as one of the outstanding collegiate snappersacks of the 1939 campaign.

Apolskis had the misfortune to break his hand in practice shortly after the Hilltoppers' opening game with Wisconsin. Through the use of a special protector, he was able to play in Marquette's last three games and may even be improved enough to cast off the apparatus when Padry Driscoll's gridmen line up against Arizona Saturday.

Fast, rugged and possessed of a keenly diagnostic football mind Apolskis has been an outstanding star for Marquette since his first start as a sophomore last fall and more than once, he has been singled out by friend and foe alike as "the best man on the field." Superb as an offensive center, he is even better on defense when on guard against enemy passes or in backing up the line.

Apolskis is 5 feet, 11 inches tall and weighs 192 pounds. In spite of his injury, he is having a great season with the Golden Avalanche this fall and will be the center of attention Saturday. And that's no pun!

Pumps Bicycle From Coast to Play Rugby

Chicago—(AP)—A husky young fellow sauntered out to the field today where the Chicago rugby football team was practicing.

"My name, Sir, is Art Westerman," he said by way of introduction. "I am a student at Southern California, but don't have to go back until next semester. I have played a bit of rugby on the coast and would like to try out for your team."

Vic Harding, Chicago's husky fullback from Harvard, blurted out "Sure."

"But you'd better be in shape," he added.

"In shape?" queried Westerman. "See that over there," pointing to a bicycle. "I've been on that thing for 24 days. That's now I got back from California."

So young Westerman hopes to break into the game against the New York fifteen at Soldier Field Nov. 12.

Henry Armstrong in Title Bout Tonight

Los Angeles—(AP)—"Hammerin' Henry" Armstrong, a local boy who made good in the big time, puts his welterweight boxing crown up tonight for clever Jimmy Garrison of Kansas City to shoot at.

Both were expected to weigh in well under the 147-pound limit. Armstrong at about 143 and Garrison at 139. The bout will be 10 rounds.

Armstrong, the favorite, is defending the last of three ring titles which he held simultaneously—the first fighter in history to accomplish the feat. He abandoned his featherweight championship and lost as a lightweight to Lou Ambers in New York Aug. 22.

Call Special Meeting Of Major League Heads

A special meeting of Major bowling league captains has been called for 7:30 this evening at Arcade alleys. General discussion of league rules is planned.

er Alabama. Last week, the Vols were in fifth place, the experts not quite ready to acclaim the team on its showing against North Carolina State. Sewanee and Chattanooga. The victory over Alabama, its seventh game without defeat, boosted the Neylandites up past Notre Dame, Oklahoma and Tulane.

Simultaneously, the mighty Pitts hit the skids. The Panthers got only 33 points to slide from first place to eighteenth—seven places back of their conquerors, Duquesne. In addition to Pitt, the only team to fall from the Big Ten was Alabama. Those two vacancies were filled by Cornell, one of the east's ranking clubs, and Nebraska of the Big Six.

The ten leaders, with the possible exception of Tennessee, all have bruising battles this week. Notre Dame takes on Carnegie Tech; Michigan plays host to Yale; Ohio State plays Cornell; the Texas Aggies play Baylor; Oklahoma has a date with the Oklahoma Aggies; Southern California plays California; Tulane meets unbeaten, untied Mississippi, and Nebraska has a tough test with Kansas State.

Agent Describes Work of Actuary At Menasha Class

Seniors Hear Explanation Of Life Insurance by Neenah Man

Menasha — The work of the insurance actuary was described by W. F. Bloch, Neenah, to members of the Menasha high school senior class Monday. Mr. Bloch discussed life insurance and the part it plays in making the individual's future secure in his talk which was part of the local observance of the 1939 annual message of life insurance.

Pointing out that life insurance payments in 1938 were two and one-half billion dollars, or two and one-half times the amount spent for national defense last year, the speaker declared that insurance is based on mortality, interest and expense.

From studying the deaths in past years from all age groups the actuaries know how many people can be expected to die each year in each age group. By knowing how many deaths to expect each year, the actuaries know how much money will have to be on hand to pay the policies those persons had.

Level Premium
The companies could add the expenses of doing business to the amount to be paid each year in premiums and divide it by the number of persons insured to set the premium or amount to be paid each year by every person. In the first year that wouldn't be much but in 30 years with only half the original group still alive, the cost would be practically prohibitive.

Instead the actuaries have worked out a level premium which is the same from year to year. In the first years it is more than is needed to pay any claims and a reserve is built up. The reserve is invested in safe securities, government bonds and other investments so that interest will make the reserves even larger.

In later years when the amount needed to pay death claims is larger than the amount collected in premiums, the reserve makes up the difference.

Company I Captain Gets Orders to Drill Guards Twice a Week

Neenah — Captain Howard G. Whitman, commander of Company I, 127th infantry, Wisconsin National Guard, today received official orders to drill his company twice a week. The new order takes effect this week.

Until this week, Company I drilled only once a week, on Tuesday night at the S. A. Cook Armory, but until Jan. 31, it will drill on Tuesday and Thursday night. The order for drills twice a week is effective only until Jan. 31.

Orders to increase the company's strength from 67 men to 83 have been filled, the captain reported.

Company I and the James P. Hawley post, American Legion, will hold a party at 8 o'clock Friday night at the Armory.

Bluejays Hope to Climb in Contest With New London

Teams Will Clash in Conference Game Under Lights Friday

Menasha — The Menasha high school football team will seek to climb a notch higher in the Northwestern Wisconsin conference standings Friday night at New London's expense. The Bluejays have won two and lost two in the conference and are aiming at two more victories to end the season with a .667 percentage.

The Bulldogs have won three and lost one in the conference. However, those three victories were compiled against the weaker teams of the conference and New London was defeated by Kaukauna last Saturday 28 to 6 in its first severe test of the season. Previously the Bulldogs had beaten Clintonville 13 to 0, Neenah 9 to 0 and West DePere by a 6 to 0 score.

The Bluejays lost to Kaukauna 21 to 6 and beat Clintonville 19 to 0 and West DePere 20 to 6. DePere scored its touchdown against Menasha reserves.

Blocking Improves
Although they dropped decisions to Oshkosh, Kaukauna and Shawano at the start of the season, the Bluejays have shown improvement in recent games. Blocking particularly down field blocking, has improved.

Roland O'Brien went 95 yard for a touchdown against West DePere but that gain was possible only because of four or five crashing blocks that shook O'Brien loose. Even then he might have been caught but Harold Funk blocked off the only Black Phantom who seemed to have chance to overhaul O'Brien.

That same type of blocking shook O'Brien loose for a 30 yard jaunt late in the game. The Jays also made several long gains in the Clintonville game because of the blocking that knocked opponents out of the way.

The Jays did indicate in the West DePere game that they will have to have some more work on pass defense this week. West threatened, chiefly through the air, even when the varsity was in the game. In addition, New London is reported to have a team with a dangerous passing attack. The Bulldogs also made interference to make sweeps around end dangerous.

Cretin Team, Coached By Marvin J. Miller, Loses Catholic Crown

Menasha — The Cretin high school football team of St. Paul, coached by Marvin J. Miller, former coach at St. Mary's high school, lost the Minnesota Catholic conference championship Sunday when it was defeated by St. Thomas by a 7 to 0 score.

Miller's team opened the season by defeating Duluth Cathedral 7 to 0 to run the victory streak at the school to 28 games without a defeat. St. Joseph high school of St. Paul upset Cretin 13 to 6 in the second game of the season to end the string of victories.

Following that defeat the Cretin team won four successive games before the defeat Sunday. The victories were 31 to 6 over Mechanic Arts high school of St. Paul, 26 to 0 over St. Cloud Cathedral high school, 26 to 0 over DeLaSalle high school of Minneapolis and 14 to 6 over St. Augustine high school of Austin, Minn. One game remains on the schedule.

Neenah Gridmen to Meet West DePere Saturday Morning

Rockets, Black Phantoms On Par for Conference Game

Neenah — The hapless Rockets have three more chances to crash the victory column in the Northwestern Wisconsin conference grid standings and for the first time this season, the Neenah eleven will enter a contest without the stigma of being the underdog Saturday morning when it battles West DePere. The game will be played at 10 o'clock at DePere.

Neenah, however, will not be favored to win, for the two teams are about on a par. The Rockets have lost three conference games, losing to Kaukauna, Shawano and New London, while the Black Phantoms have lost three and won one. They defeated Clintonville and lost to Shawano, New London and Menasha.

The Rockets have two conference games remaining on its schedule besides the West DePere conflict, meeting Clintonville Nov. 4 and Menasha Nov. 11.

Neenah suffered a 39 to 0 drubbing from Shawano here Saturday afternoon, while West DePere lost to Menasha Friday, 20 to 6.

Passing Attack
The Rockets will have to be prepared for a stiff passing attack from the Black Phantoms, for so far this season, the only offensive drive that West DePere has shown is via the air. Two of the three touchdowns it has scored have been through the air.

Neenah showed little in the Shawano game, for the Rockets were overpowered, but the backfield despite costly fumbles, performed well at times. The line, however, couldn't hold against the Indians' forward wall.

It Is Said--

That St. Mary High school griders of Menasha are establishing some kind of a record for missing points after touchdowns. They have scored 12 touchdowns and have missed on eight attempts for the extra point. All four of the conversions were in games in which the Zephyrs had long leads and didn't need the extra points. In the games where the points were important the Zephyrs failed to convert.

Appleton Interior Decorator to Teach Menasha Adult Class

Menasha — Mrs. Gertrude Fentner, Appleton interior decorator, has been secured by the Menasha School of Vocational and Adult Education to conduct a course in interior decoration in the evening school. The first meeting was held Monday night and the second meeting will be held Wednesday night.

Winnebago County Road Toll Higher Than 1938 Record

30 Per Cent Increase in Auto Accidents So Far This Year

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau: Oshkosh — Hopes for a repetition of Winnebago county's safety record of 1938 languished this week with the report of a 30 per cent increase in the number of auto accidents for the current month as compared to the same period last year.

According to the weekly traffic accident report of Floyd L. Wright, county safety head, the number of damaged cars for the present month topped October, 1938, by 63 per cent and the number of injuries resulting from these accidents, by 45 per cent.

Fatalities on the highway for 1939 to date are 66 per cent in excess of those reported for the corresponding period last year. Auto accidents have increased 11 per cent while injuries due to traffic mishaps have risen 18 per cent.

431 Accidents
Out of a total of 431 traffic accidents reported in Winnebago county this year, 207 occurred in the city of Oshkosh, 33 took place in Menasha and 43 happened in Neenah.

The townships and villages of the county were charged with 148 of the mishaps. The town of Oshkosh led this category with 37 accidents, closely followed by the town of Menasha with 32.

Wright marks a county map with colored pins as soon as an accident is reported and certain areas are literally studded with markers. Congested areas are Highway 21 near Omro; Highways 41, A and AA at Oshkosh; Highways 10, 114 and 47, town of Menasha, and Highway 123 near Neenah.

North and South Commercial street in Neenah, Main, Taylor and Milwaukee streets at Menasha, and Main and Oregon streets and Jackson drive, Oshkosh, are other danger zones.

Tomah Pastor to Fill Pulpit at Menasha Church

Congregational Parish Chooses Rev. Gerald Churchill for Pastorate

Menasha — The Rev. Gerald Churchill, Tomah, has been selected to fill the pastorate at First Congregational church, following acceptance of the pastoral committee recommendation Monday evening by the church and society. The Rev. Mr. Churchill who will assume his duties on or before Nov. 15, succeeds the Rev. W. A. Jacobs who resigned last summer to become pastor in Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

The board of deacons and business members of the church and the board of trustees of the society selected F. B. Young, Emmet Reilow, Mrs. Irving Merrill, Carl Anderson, L. H. Terrio, J. N. Holter and J. F. Kaufman as the pastoral committee last July. The committee's report at the meeting last night followed consideration of 28 applications with the help of Dr. Faville, state superintendent of Congregational churches.

The Rev. Mr. Churchill was guest pastor at the Menasha church Sunday, Oct. 15. He was born in Endavor, Wis., in 1910 and was graduated from Ripon college in 1932 and Chicago Theological seminary in 1936. He was ordained at Tomah Nov. 13, 1936.

Served at Tomah
As a student pastor, the Rev. Mr. Churchill served the Rio and Wyocena churches from 1934 to 1936 receiving the call to the Tomah church upon his graduation from the seminary in 1936.

The Rev. Mr. Churchill is married and has two children, Bruce, 24, and Carol Kathryn, 8 months. Mrs. Churchill is a talented organist.

The new pastor comes to Menasha highly recommended by President Palmer of the Chicago Theological seminary, Silas Evans, president of Ripon college, the Rev. Paul Stowell, LaCrosse and the Rev. Alfred Swan, Madison.

The St. Thomas church school has an enrolment of 153, the largest in the history of the parish, with 112 boys and girls in the school classes and 41 in the pre-school department. The instructors for the Sunday school are Miss Olive Plummer, Miss Henrietta Heller, Miss Dorothea Hallon, Mrs. Charles Ballar, Mrs. Merritt Clinton, Mrs. Floyd Cummings, Floyd Cummings, Edward Matthes and Silas Spangler.

350 See Film Showing U. S. Navy Operations

Menasha — About 350 people attended the motion picture describing the United States navy Monday night at S. A. Cook armory in observance of Navy week. The pictures also will be shown next Tuesday night at a Junior Association of Commerce meeting at Hotel Menasha.

The sound pictures showed the operations of a repair ship, supply ship and a relief ship. Also shown were pictures showing travel enjoyed by navy men and the daily routine of a sailor. Members of Headquarters company viewed the pictures last night.

Plans are being made to show "Wings of Gold," another navy picture dealing with the air fleet and a reel about the battle fleet as soon as they are released, Arthur Gutzmann, former member of the navy, has charge of the observance in the Twin Cities.

About 150 Attend Church Anniversary Services

Weyauwega—About 150 persons attended the golden anniversary Sunday of the building of the present Methodist church in Weyauwega. The Methodist organization began in Weyauwega in 1852. The present building was dedicated Aug. 4, 1889, with the presiding elder, the Rev. C. E. Goldthorp of Oshkosh, preaching the sermon. The pastor then was the Rev. C. H. Betts. In 1910 the seating was changed and primary equipment was added for the Sunday school. The present parsonage was erected in 1899. The church has sent out from its membership three ministers and one foreign missionary. They are the Rev. O. W. Smith of Oconomowoc, the Rev. S. B. Lewis of Watoma, the Rev. Paul Lewis of Minneapolis, and Miss Eleanor Rhode, now of Milwaukee.

Many greetings were read from former members.

The Rev. S. A. Sheard of Green Bay, pastor here in 1890, stressed evangelism as the strength of the church of his day and the hope of this day.

Lucius W. Clark of Oshkosh and his sister, Mrs. William Clark, recalled their early life here when their father, the Rev. O. B. Clark, was pastor.

Fred Clason and his sister, Miss Maggie Clason, traveled the longest distance to attend, coming from Illinois.

Dr. George Woodruff of New London who had lived in this vicinity 70 years ago when his father was pastor came to renew old acquaintances. He has just returned to Wisconsin.

The present pastor, the Rev. Lowell Reykdal, presided.

Chicago Woman Will Be Buried at Neenah

Neenah—Funeral services for Mrs. Emma Bradke Meade, 51, former Neenah resident who died Sunday morning at her home in Chicago, will be at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at Sorensen Funeral home with the Rev. Americans Just Naturally Choke on Red, Hitler Ideas

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

Cleveland—I would like to offer some pear-shaped thoughts today on a subject which has been thoroughly misrepresented.

Here is a report abroad in the country that the American Americans, meaning those who believe in the American system of government, the constitution and all, hereafter, called Americans, are determined to prevent the teaching of Communism and Hitlerism, and, as much as possible, to suppress belief in those vices.

That is untrue. The Americans know that if they were to silence such teachings and try to suppress such belief they would therein contaminate themselves with the very evils which they detest so much. The campaign against Communism and Hitlerism is a defense not against ideas but against intrusion into the politics and other strictly domestic affairs of the United States by organizations operating under the direction of Josef Stalin and Adolf Hitler.

These organizations—the Communist party and the anti-American bund—say they aren't under orders and don't receive their support from Stalin and Hitler, respectively. But the Americans say that, damn it, they are and they do. It has been proved to the satisfaction of the Americans that they are and do, and that verdict is final.

Anyone who believes in Stalinism or Communism may preach himself hoarse, subject, of course, to local and personal deviations from the straight line of democratic tolerance.

Now, how did we reach the verdict that these groups are agents of foreign dictators and carrying out their orders?

Verdict of Guilty Was Cinched by Browder

Never mind the testimony of Ben Gitlow, who said he stood trial in Moscow, and, by Stalin's orders, was removed from the leadership of an organization purporting to be an American political party. Skip the fact that Stalin then appointed Browder head of a Russian political branch store operating here without even a perfunctory nod to the democratic method. Ignore the fact that Browder and Gitlow, present and past dictators of the party here, used fake passports to travel in the interests of the Soviet government. All that is just background.

The verdict of guilty was cinched by Browder himself when he said the American party members had to believe in and refrain from criticizing Stalin's deal with Hitler. Whether it was a decent or indecent deal is beside the question. Browder laid down the law, which means that even if Stalin made an alliance with Japan or Germany or both to attack the United States the members of his party would have to side with Stalin.

Several members of Stalin's American branch wanted to reserve judgment on his Hitler deal, but they weren't even allowed to do that. They had to approve it or get out, and a few of them gagged on that ultimatum and did get out. That is Browder's idea of freedom of speech and thought.

Well, how did the Americans arrive at the conclusion that the Nazi anti-American bund is a branch store of the Hitler government?

They convinced themselves of the foreignness and anti-American purposes of the bund by comparing it to the other bunds of Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland, which masqueraded in the same garb, manners and tricky pretense of loyalty, but meanwhile served as secret police, military spies, wreckers and disrupters, and finally, opened the gates from the inside, delivered the countries over to Hitler and put the finger on loyal patriots, who were then taken out and shot by German firing squads.

These are the reasons why the Americans turned on the Communist party and the bund.

The teaching of their poison is neither forbidden nor feared, because the more Americans learn about them the more clearly they realize that treachery, treason and service to enemies of the American people and their system are inherent requirements of both of those isms. Americans just naturally choke on them and spit them out.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

ONCE IN GERMANY
Germany has a near neighbor on the north, a neighbor called Denmark. This little nation is the home of about 3,750,000 people. Denmark includes a jut of land known as "Jutland," and this makes up more than half the area. The rest of the country is composed of islands.

King Christian X

Copenhagen, the capital city, is on the largest of the islands, and is east of Jutland. It is far closer to Sweden than to any part of Germany.

Denmark's written history goes back more than a thousand years. The olden Danes were among the Vikings who sailed far over the seas. Thousands of them reached the shores of England, and settled there.

"Canute the Dane" is famous in history. He became the king of England and also ruled Denmark and Norway. He had some of the bad points of a conqueror, but was not cruel toward the people over whom he ruled.

After the death of Canute, his empire fell to pieces. Three centuries later, a Danish queen—Margaret—brought about a union of Denmark, Norway and Sweden. Yesterday I told how this union broke up in the passing of time.

King Christian IX, who died in 1906, was nicknamed "the father-in-law of Europe." This odd name was given because several of his children married into the royal families of other nations of Europe.

Christian X, a grandson of that king, came to the throne in 1912. He has been honored as a wise and friendly ruler. Denmark is a kingdom, but the country is "democratic." The people vote to choose their law-makers.

Denmark owns certain land which was in Germany for a time. Some persons have feared Hitler—sooner or later—would use this fact as an excuse to make war. The land is in the southern part of Denmark, some miles north of the Kiel canal. It was taken away from the Danes in 1864. The treaty of Versailles ordered a vote by people living in it, and the people voted three to one to go back to Denmark.

Almost half of the Danes are farmers, and their country is richly blessed with good soil. Fine crops of oats, barley, wheat and potatoes are raised.

The dairy industry also is important. The meadows give excellent pasture for cattle. Danish butter is famous, and millions of pounds of it are sold to Great Britain and other countries each year.

Holy Cross Squad Defeats St. Mary's In Annual Battle

Winners Score Four Touchdowns in Second Half for 35-6 Count

Kaukauna — Holy Cross footballers scored four touchdowns in the second half on the high school field yesterday afternoon to take the annual battle from St. Mary's, 35 to 6.

St. Mary's got off to a lead in the opening quarter when Leo Van de Loo's 15-yard pass to Dick Wiefle went for a touchdown. Coach Bob Promer's team came back in the second period, going into the lead at 7-6 when Jim McGowan ran 20 yards for a score and Dick Ristau added the extra point.

McGowan ran for another touchdown as the third period opened, with Ristau plunging over for the point, to make it 14 to 6 for Holy Cross. Two more touchdowns were scored in this period, McGowan running 45 yards for one and 15 for the other. Dave Flanagan and Ristau ran the ball over for the extra points.

Intercepted Pass
The last touchdown came in the fourth period when McGowan returned an intercepted pass from midfield. Flanagan made the extra point.

Coach Jack Licht started a St. Mary's team consisting of Wilfred Powers and Bob Kalupa, ends; E. Welhouse and Carl Nieuwenhuis, tackles; Raymond Van Dalen, center, and Richard Vils, Leo Van de Loo, Dick Kiefle and Henry De Bruin in the backfield. Substitutes who saw action were Junior Vanderveide, David Nagan, Francis Lichten and Arthur Schmidt.

The opening Holy Cross eleven had Harry Femal and Orville Van-evenhoven, ends, Richard Verhagen and B. Ives, tackles, George Balck and Pat Flanagan, guards; Ivan Lucassen, center, and Dave Flanagan, Mark Verhagen, Richard Ristau and Jim McGowan in the backfield. Substitutes were Joe Giordana and James Kramer.

Knights of Columbus See Movies of Trip In Wisconsin, Canada

Kaukauna — Arthur J. Neumeyer of Brillion exhibited motion pictures of a trip through northern Wisconsin and Canada before Kaukauna Knights of Columbus last night, explaining the pictures as they were shown. John Van de Loo, chairman of the Catholic interest committee, told of plans for a retreat at Monte Alverno retreat house Nov. 17, 18 and 19.

Friends surprised Mrs. Henry Merkl at her Lawe street home Sunday evening on the occasion of her birthday anniversary. Cards were played, with prizes going to Mrs. Paul Merkl of DePere and Miss Anna Soper. Other out of town people present were Mrs. Jacob Pauler, DePere, and Mrs. Henry Merkl, Hollandtown. Lunch was served.

Ten members of American Legion Auxiliary are planning to attend the county council meeting Wednesday evening at the Appleton clubrooms. Mrs. Arthur Schubring, Kaukauna president of the county council, will preside at the meeting.

Kaws Will Close Loop Season With West DePere Tilt

Champions Given 2-Day Rest as Reward for New London Victory

Kaukauna — After getting Monday and today off as a reward for their victory over New London Saturday, high school griders will take up practice sessions tomorrow for the final conference game, at West DePere Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 1. The game will be part of a double-header, with East DePere of the eastern division of the Northeastern Wisconsin at home for the other battle. East then comes here for Armistice day to end the season.

In scoring 25 points to New London's 6 the Kaws increased their edge in season statistics over opposing teams. The edge is heaviest in the point column, which shows 132 for the Kaws and only 40 for opponents, in six games. Every opponent has scored one touchdown, with four of them coming in the last period against Kaukauna substitutes.

Giordana Is Leader
Karl Giordana added 13 points, on two touchdowns and a placement, to his total Saturday and leads the Kaws backs with 66 points, on 9 touchdowns and 12 extra points. Bob Danner, sophomore fullback, is second with four touchdowns for 24 points, while Leo Rohan has two for 12 points, both on passes. Five players have scored once, Phelan Femal, Willis Ranquette, George Stef-fen, Bill Alger and Joe Regenfuss.

In the matter of first downs the Kaws have made 55, while holding opponents to 34. Kaws backs have rushed the ball for 1,206 yards, with the opposition gaining 733. Passes have netted the Kaws 181 yards and opponents 197.

Out of 31 attempts the Littlemen have connected on 13 passes, with opposing teams making good on 16 of 58.

Penalties have set Kaukauna back 270 yards and opponents 127. Out of 26 fumbles the Kaws have snared 17.

Movieland Its People and Products

John Garfield and Ann Sheridan in "Fears Without Days" in which they appear with Pat O'Brien, Jerome Cowan, Burgess Meredith, Margot Stevenson, Henry O'Neill and Willard Robertson. The director is Anatole Litvak.

Hollywood—There's a dahlia fan in our block who reminds me of Hollywood's producers. Each spring this rabid gardener runs from nursery to nursery like a flea on a hot skillet, paying fabulous prices for newly developed dahlias. And each fall, he admits that his tremendous investment has been disappearing—the flowers produced by his $25 and $50 tubers are no better than those grown in his neighbors' gardens from time-honored bulbs costing one-hundredth as much.

Studios, similarly, squander their money and effort on new personalities, which in itself might be laudible if they didn't at the same time overlook well-established favorites. For instance, consider the case of John Payne—hailed only two years ago as Hollywood's most promising young discovery. For one short season, Warner Brothers gave him a terrific build-up, then, just as he was ready to pay dividends, along came a newer personality in the person of John Garfield. Off with the old love; on with the new! They shunted Payne, just as promising as ever, into second rate parts and pictures and concentrated the fireworks on Garfield.

Now it seems that the Messrs. Warner are losing interest in him to an appreciable extent. Probably they have an eye on other, newer discoveries. But who in Hades gave them the idea that we theater-goers must have someone new every year? Well settle for the old dahlias—favorite stars in good pictures!

School Carnival Draws Big Crowd

More Than $515 Realized From Event Sponsored At Seymour High

Seymour—More than 500 persons attended the Seymour high school carnival Friday evening, and entrance tickets sold totaled far over the 1,750 mark. The income from the event amounted to $515, surpassing that of any other year. The success of the carnival, according to Carl Roethig, general manager, was due to the cooperation of all the students of Seymour High school.

The Royal Neighbors and their families of Royalton were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Pope Thursday evening. About twenty-six were present. Schalkopf and Chinese checkers were played. Prizes at the first game were won by Mrs. Ed Lethrop, high for women, and Mrs. Cyril Martin, consolation; for the men, Ervin Casey, high, and Ed Lathrop, consolation. Lunch was served after the entertainment. Laurent Bernhardt and Allen Shepard, students at North Central college, Naperville, Ill., spent the weekend at their homes here.

Miss Alice Kelly, Miss Hübner, Miss Humphries, Mrs. Howard Nagel, Miss Joyce Pohl and Miss Virginia Decker were at Madison Saturday and Sunday.

North American Co. Net Income Highest Since Close of 1937

North American co., utility holding company, and subsidiaries Monday reported consolidated net income of $18,633,192, or $1.81 a common share, for the 12 months ending Sept. 30, the highest since the close of 1937.

In the comparable 1938 period, the giant power firm, which controls the Electric Co. here and affiliated Wisconsin and Michigan utilities, reported net income of $15,445,216 or $1.59 a share.

J. F. Fogarty, New York, president, in his report to stockholders, said the Wisconsin-Michigan group of subsidiaries showed a new peak demand on Aug. 8 when the load reached 349,724 kilowatts as compared with the previous maximum of 343,061 kilowatts on Oct. 19, 1937. He added total electric output for the last week was the highest for the group this year.

Mr. Fogarty said the upward swing in manufacturing activity in Milwaukee and the state has been reflected in increased use of electric power by large industrial concerns, especially foundries.

The utility head said in each month of the last October the electric revenues and output of North American subsidiaries exceeded the figures of the previous corresponding months. He said the principal upward trend has occurred in sales at the lower steps of rates to industrial and large commercial users, with a consequently smaller increase in revenues than in volume. He added rising operating costs and taxes tend to retard increases in net earnings.

Mr. Fogarty said the plants of subsidiaries "are well able to take care of further increases in demand." He explained construction programs are based on "reasonable anticipation of future growth."

Chicken Pox, Whooping Cough Appear in City

New London Grid Squad Drills for Homecoming Tilt

Team Is Hampered by Injuries After Defeat At Kaukauna

New London — The New London football squad took to practice Monday afternoon after a disheartening 25 to 6 defeat at the hands of Kaukauna there Saturday afternoon. With several boys out of practice because of injuries and with several changes in the line threatened by Coach Gregory Charlesworth as the result of some unsatisfactory performances Saturday, a revamped squad may take the field Friday night against the Menasha Bluejays in the annual homecoming tilt.

Whatever the prospects of the beginning or the final outcome, the Jays promise to be as much trouble as any and have a good chance to spoil the homecoming for New London. The Jays have lost only to the two leaders, Kaukauna and Shawano, while they drubbed Clintonville 19 to 0 and West De Pere 20 to 6. The Red and White found De Pere tough for a 6 to 0 victory. Charles Clark, end, and Bob Houk, back, were kept from practice yesterday with badly bruised arms and their condition by Friday is questionable. Karl Hembrich, center, suffered three cracked ribs Saturday and will have to be careful for a while.

Passing Attack Fails

The Kaws hit hard Saturday and after New London's first play, a trick pass that was intended for a quick touchdown, was fumbled by the wind, the whole team failed to click the rest of the game. The passing attack failed completely. Bleeding and tackling will be stressed strongly in practice this week and a number of reserves will receive extra attention for possible starting positions Friday night in place of some regulars, according to Coach Charlesworth.

The homecoming bonfire will be held Thursday night, the float parade Friday afternoon, and the homecoming dance will be held in the high school gymnasium after the game.

Annual Ski Meet Slated for Jan. 28

New London Club Will Begin Work Soon to Widen Landing

New London—Sunday, Jan. 28, 1940, was the date set for New London's annual ski meet at the meeting of the Central United States Ski association at Wausau Saturday and Sunday. Beloit was awarded the jumping championship which was held here last year.

More rigid hill specifications and a scientific inspection of each hill were planned by the association for the coming year. The New London club plans to begin work soon to widen the landing of the Mosquito hill slide in the interest of safety.

Representing the New London club at Wausau Saturday and Sunday was Ralph W. Hanson, club president, accompanied by Mrs. Hanson, W. T. Comstock and Dr. J. W. Monsted attended Sunday's sessions.

Appraisers Set $25 Per Acre as Value Of Floodway Lands

New London—Damages of $25 an acre for all property involved in the floodway course at the north city limits was set by a special committee appointed by Judge A. M. Scheller at a hearing at the city hall Monday morning.

The levy under the condemnation proceedings will include 9 acres of Rasmussen property, four acres owned by Anthony Schanes of Fond du Lac and four acres owned by Levi Talley of New London.

The Rasmussen sisters previously turned down an offer of $500 by the city. They were represented at the hearing by Attorney L. D. Smith of Waupaca.

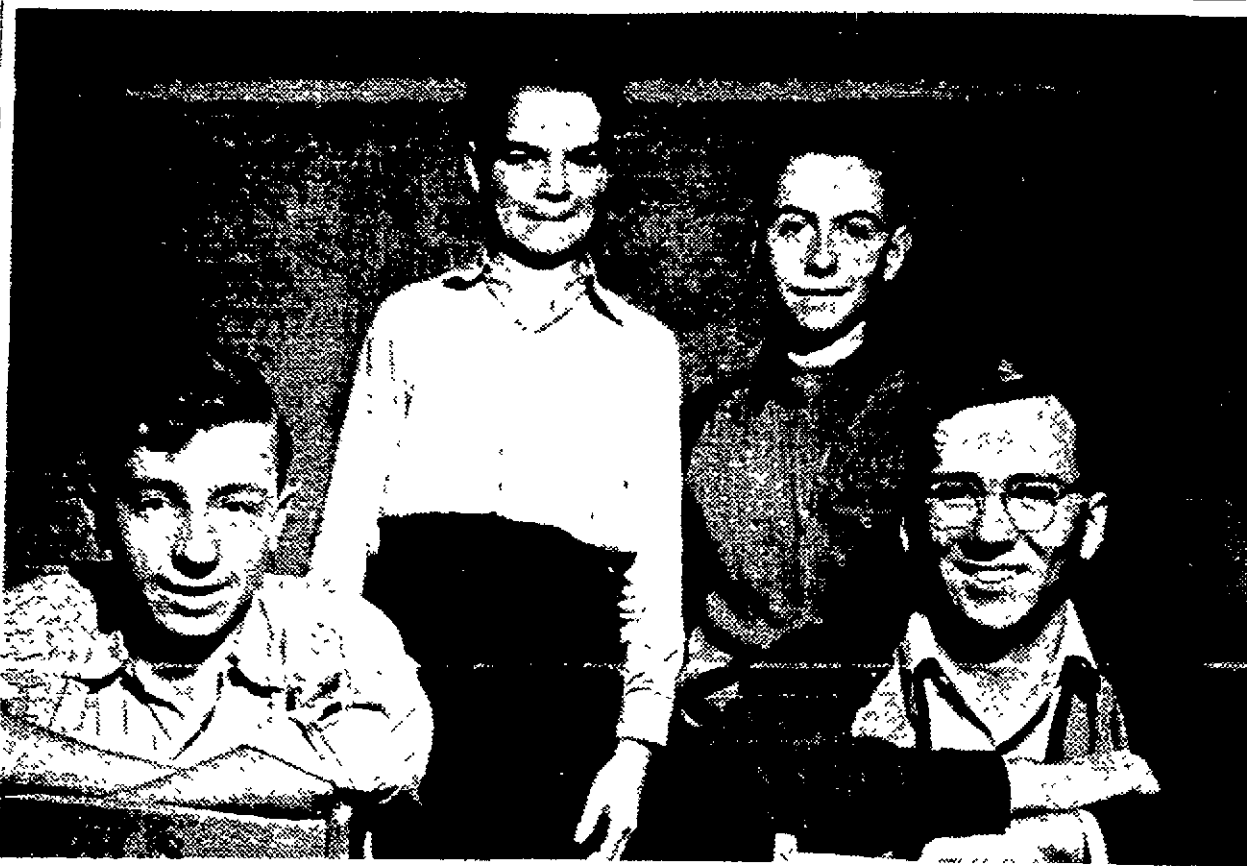

On the condemnation jury were M. J. Henry, New London; Ed Roman, Manawa; and Fred Smiley, Mukwa.

Oil Company Dealers Will Meet Wednesday

New London—About 60 dealers of the Wadham Oil company are expected at a semi-annual gathering of dealers of the Wausau division at the Elwood hotel Wednesday evening. The meeting will begin at 7:30 with talks on automotive lubrication by William McKee, Wausau, and Edward York, Milwaukee engineer. Lunch and refreshments will follow the technical discussions.

Len Cline Paces Lions Club League

Cracks 581 Series to Give Growlers Three Wins Over Roarers

Standings:
Twisters	13 5
Roarers	11 7
Tamers	7 11
Growlers	5 13

New London—Len Cline smashed lines of 173, 208 and 200 at Pahl's alleys last night to set a new high individual series of 581 in the Lions club league and pace the Growlers to three straight wins over the leading Roarers. It marked the downfall of the Roarers as the Twisters banged a new high team series total of 2,328 while beating the Tamers three games to take first place. Dr. J. W. Monsted led the winners with a 549 count in series of 176, 200 and 173.

Goodfellowship League

Debaters to Enter Shawano Tourney

Speech Instructor Will Select New London Teams This Week

New London—Debate teams will be chosen at Washington High school this week by Victor Gimmetstad, speech instructor and debate coach in preparation for the first conference Class A and B tournament at Shawano, Nov. 18.

Try-outs are being held this week by 15 members of the speech class after six weeks of preliminary work. Three members outside the speech class who were on the varsity squad last year also will try out. They are Richard Demming, negative, and Simon Garrow and Maurice Levine, affirmative.

Allen Ziebur, in his third year of speech work, will try for the affirmative team. Second year students are Jean Fox and James Christensen. First year candidates are Donald Thorn, the only freshman, Rosemary McDaniel, Floyd Watkins and Bert Saterstrom.

The only experienced debater beside Demming trying for the negative team is Robert Patchen in his second year. First year students are Shirley Holstad, Calvin Pomerning, Ralph Fontstad, James Lautenschlager, Harold Rieckman, Marguerite Gehrke and Joyce Miles.

Three students will be selected on each team for an A and B squad, allowing places for 12 in all. The question to be debated this year is: "Resolved, that the federal government should own and operate the railroads."

Two Slightly Injured When Car Strikes Rock

New London—Albert McIlraith and Lawrence Magalska, New London, escaped with minor cuts and bruises when the car in which they were riding left Highway 22 between Clintonville and Embarras early Sunday morning and crashed into a large stone. They received emergency treatment at Clintonville. The two were the only occupants of the car driven by McIlraith.

New London Yachtsmen Dock Boats for Season

New London—The boating season on the Wolf river was officially closed by the New London Boat club Sunday when docking of boats for the winter was undertaken. Three smaller craft were hauled from the water and three larger cruisers will be removed next weekend.

After A Man's Heart

by JEAN RANDALL

put into words something of what had happened to him.
He was halfway through his second stumbling sentence when the cartoonist gripped him excitedly by the arm.
"Look at that fellow outside! Tim, my boy, go out and engage him in conversation for five minutes, will you? Five will do though if you could make it ten . . . get a move on!"
Toward the end of the afternoon, when Lance firmly annexed him for dinner, Tim made a second and more determined effort.
"Mr. Carroll, about Buff, I think you ought to know—"
"I know Buff, and that's all that's necessary," Lance chuckled. "If she's picked you as her partner for the march up a church aisle, my boy, you might as well give up first as last. What that daughter of mine wants she gets—regardless. It's simpler to yield than to fight. I've found."

Tim's jaw set stubbornly. "You must do as you think best, of course, sir, but remember I'm not her father; I'm not related to her in any way. I want to make it clear to you that Buff is staying in Boulder because she chooses to, not because of any persuasion on my part."

Lance nodded, turned his head to view with admiration a grizzled man who might be either a WPA worker, or a miner, Tim thought with grim amusement.

The Carrolls spent ten days in Boulder. Lance was here, there and everywhere in his usual friendly way.

The Denver and Boulder papers were highly excited by his presence and he was generous with interviews. Buff did not know whether it was by chance or by intention that each newspaper story contained some mention of Timothy Corliss, friend and recent guest of the famous artist. Whatever the motive, the effect was beneficial.

George caught Buff alone and told her, smiling radiantly, that Tim was now the town's white-headed boy, his recent escapade with Iris DeMuth apparently forgotten by popular consent.

The evening before her parents left, they had a serious talk with their only child. Queerly enough it was Lance who began it.

"Buff, that young man of yours is all right," he announced.
She said wryly. "If he only were my young man! But he behaves as though I had a peculiarly loathsome form of leprosy, or something."

"Burned Child" Carroll shook his head indulgently.

"Defense mechanism. He's a lot more attracted to you than he knows himself or would admit if he did know. He's a burned child just now and doesn't realize that when winter sets in a fire is going to afford a grateful warmth if used."

in moderation. Stick around, Buff! Cold weather comes early up here."

"That's honestly your advice, Lance?"

Father and daughter exchanged a long look; a look which made Eleanor feel momentarily isolated.

She reminded herself that Buff had always been more Lance's child than hers; touched with his genius, endowed with his ability to get his own way, gifted with his happy-go-lucky charm.

"My advice—honestly. At least for a few months. Between us, Weeks and I have hauled him out of his shell—for the time being at least."

To her amazement he tossed his notebook of sketches onto the table. "No earthly use to me, of course, but priceless as a means of putting Tim in touch with his fellow men after last summer's debacle. He's out now—of his shell, it's up to you to keep him there, my little one."

Buff, grasping the significance of these ten days—wasted as far as Lance's own work was concerned—laid her cheek against her father's hand.

"You're—you're pretty swell, darling," she told him busily. "And if I can carry on, from where you're leaving off, I don't deserve him."

"Or he doesn't deserve you," Eleanor could not forbear the comment.

Lance disposed of the subject so far as he was concerned.

"Tim's all right. What happened to him might have happened to any young fellow. The thing is that he's not played enough—got around to see people. He's made a fetish of work and responsibility. When he thought he'd failed at both, and lost his ideal woman besides, the sky fell—or so he believed. Give him a little time to regain his sense of proportion."

He rose, stretching his big frame in relief. "You're perfectly safe here with Miss Webb. You ought to have enough spare time to do a little writing. Won't hurt Tim to realize you have other interests, you know. I think your mother and I will go to Bermuda. Early enough to escape the tourists. Kiss your fond parents goodby, dear child, and don't forget to write."

"Letters, stories or one-act plays?" Buff called after him.

"All of 'em!" He swept his wife from the doorway where she lingered, gazing mournfully at Buff.

"Come along, sweet! Remember that our time leaves at an ungodly hour tomorrow morning!"

Popularity

The friendly little town of Boulder took Buff to its heart almost overnight. Tim Corliss, coming dutifully and reluctantly to pay a late afternoon call on his erstwhile hostess, gazing mournfully at Buff, was arrested by sounds of hilarity from the living room.

"I didn't know Miss Buff was just now and doesn't realize that when winter sets in a fire is going to afford a grateful warmth if used."

"No more she is; unless you call every afternoon a party. Miss Buff and me, we decided we might as well serve tea every day. These here young folks that drop in are always hungry. You go right on in, Mr. Corliss," she urged hospitably. "Miss Buff'll sure be glad to see you!"

If she was, she restrained her delight admirably, he told himself. He found her the center of a laughing group of young people, some from the University, some older.

They sat upon the floor, they filled the couches and armchairs to overflowing. They were very much at home, he thought with a trace of resentment. One of them in particular aroused his disapproval.

"Mr. VanLander, Mr. Corliss," said Buff demurely. "Van's a neighbor of mine, it turns out; lives in the apartment above."

"Van," already, thought Tim. He surveyed the neighbor with appraising eyes and was far from liking what he saw.

Young VanLander—Tim gravely doubted that he would ever see the late twenties again—had hair a shade too long, lashes like a movie actress's, and a vocabulary which was evidently his own pride and joy but which fell harshly upon the ear of the young assayer.

"Cup o' tea?" Van inquired brightly. "Ogle-dogle! Get it for you in a sec!"

He ceremoniously presented his own chair to Tim; "as if I were ninety, or thereabouts," Tim mused with hostility. When the tea was brought, Van doubled his long legs perilously close to the other man's feet. ("If he only knew how they itch to kick him!")

"Cosy little joint here, eh, what?" he began. "Nice child, our hostess, in spite of having brains. Personally I prefer women to be as nearly devoid of gray matter as is compatible with making a man comfortable. But Buff—"

"Are you speaking of Miss Carroll?" inquired Tim coldly.
